— Hawaii head coach Greg McMackin

Hawai'i 0

Louis Murphy led the Gators in receiving with 77 yards on four catches, including a 19-yard touchdown catch from Tim Tebow.

The University Of Florida Is In Gainesville... The Gator Nation Is Everywhere

Our campus is easy to find. The boundaries are well defined, tangible and concrete. The Gator Nation, however, cannot be confined to a map. It's everywhere Gators live and work. Some of us form companies, Some of us write novels, others cure diseases, raise families or lend a helping hand. Yet we all share a common bond.

First-Class Facilities

Before entering the complex, fans can see a variety of tributes to Gator Greats. Every consensus All-American has an 18 x 18 granite paver located in the walkway with their name and year they won All-America honors. The eight Gators who have been elected into the College Football Hall of Fame are also recognized in the area. A spectacular 15-foot bronze Gator stands at the center of the entryway, paying tribute to the 2006 National Championship Team.

Adjoining the football main entry area is the 4,000 square-foot Gator Room, a central location used to house recruiting functions throughout the year. Seating capacity for meals is 200 and a state-of-the-art audio and visual system provides visitors with an in-depth look at Florida football. The Gator Room was also the site for the 2008 BCS Selection Show where the Gators earned a bid to the FedEx BCS National Championship game on Dec. 9.

"What this has allowed us to do, which every big-time program in America has, is a chance to honor our heritage. That's how you build tradition."

—Florida athletic director Jeremy Foley

After 18 months of construction, the James W. "Bill" Heavener Football Complex opened in mid-July, just in time to be showcased during the 2008 National Championship season. The new "Gateway of Champions" is a state-of-the-art, environmentally-friendly building that has quickly proven to help the Gators on and off the field. It is the first building in Florida and the first athletic facility in the nation to achieve platinum certification from the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Green Building Rating System. Only 130 buildings in the US and 141 worldwide have platinum status, which is the highest available rating.

Up a flight of stairs, an additional 6,310 square-feet was added to the existing square footage, creating a grand total of 15,845 square-feet for all football office areas.

The 1,911 square-foot entryway in the building features photos and videos from Florida's three National Championship teams and eight SEC Championship teams. The south wall features the individuals who have garnered such national awards as the Heisman Trophy, Draddy Award, Lou Grozo Award and the Maxwell Award. There is also a special tribute to the Gators' rivalries, complete with historical wins and video highlights.

"I saw the black granite bricks in the front with all the All-Americans . . . I got emotional about it. Guys gave their life and their soul to make this program great and now they're permanently part of the history in the greatest stadium in all of college football. . . out there where everybody can see them and embrace what they've done."

STRENGTH, SPEED

TOUGHNESS

"Our goal is to be the fastest team in America. We want players who can run. If you can run, we will find you."

— Urban Meyer

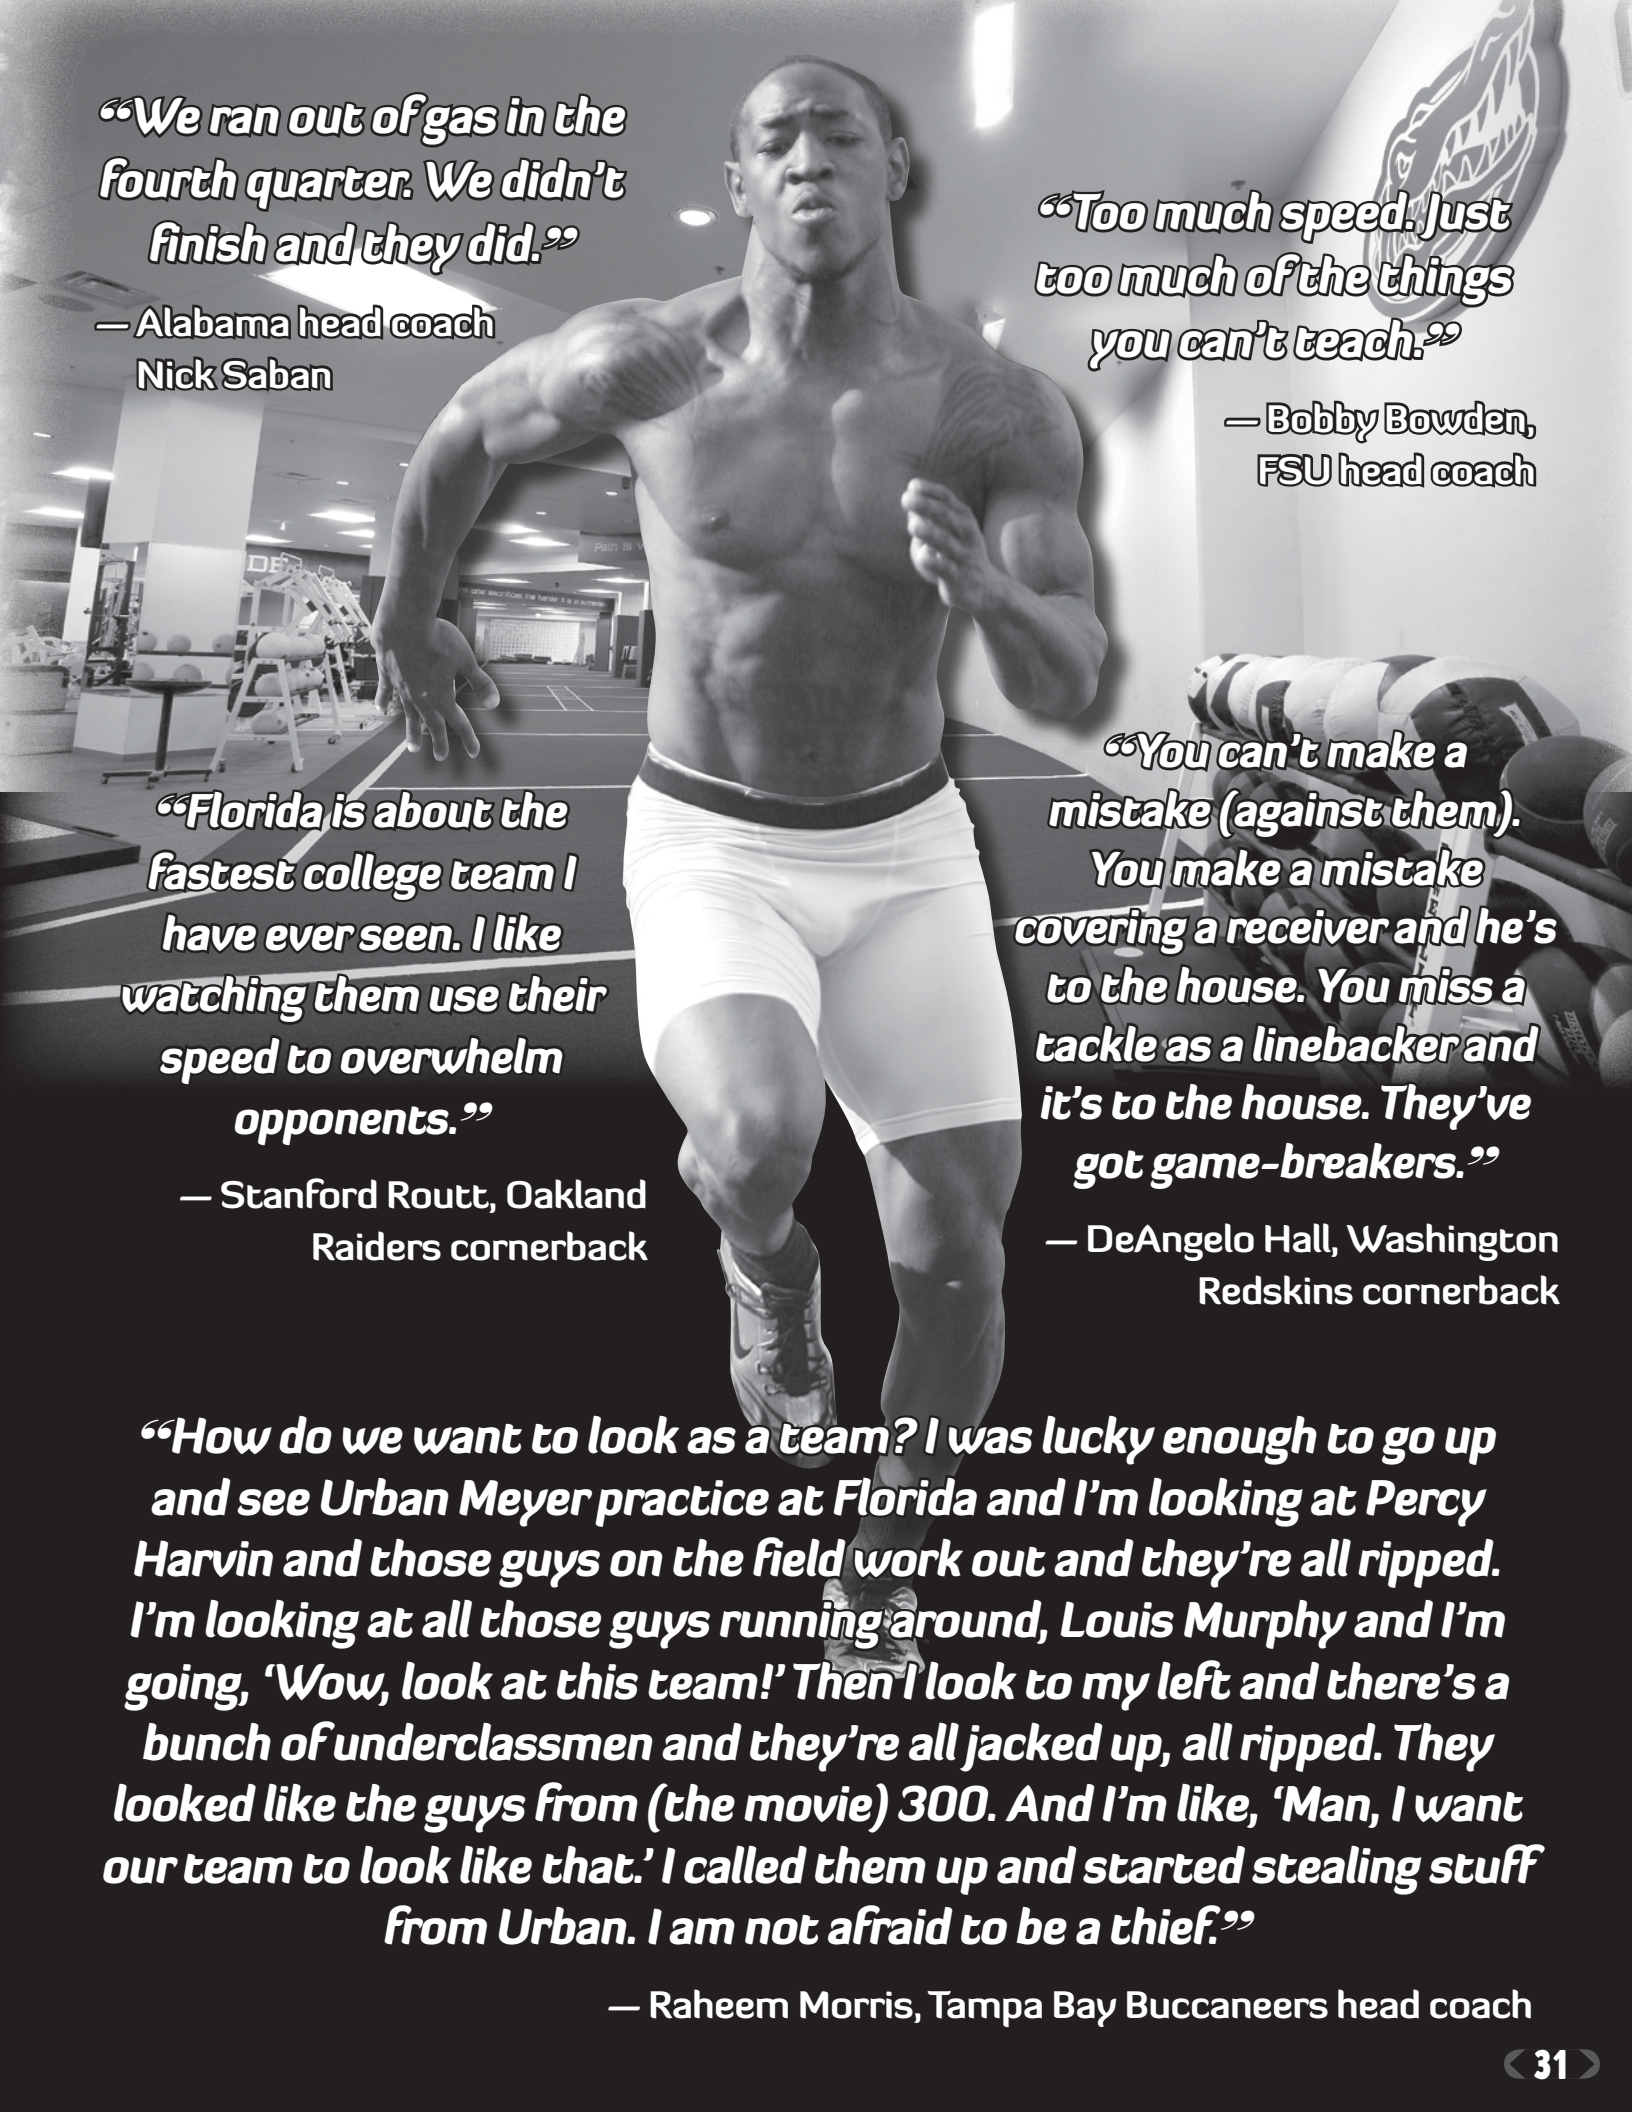
TRAINING PHILOSOPHY

STRENGTH, SPEED, CONDITIONING

Incorporation of progressive overload protocol, specific to football, encompassing an extensive, systematic, periodized year-round training schedule. Training involves all physical and mental considerations that are conducive to success on the field. Accountability is the foundation which the program is built upon.

"We pride ourselves on having a tough strength and conditioning program. We understand that disciplined physical training facilitates toughness. It's what we do." -

—Director of Strength & Conditioning Mickey Marotti



"We ran out of gas in the fourth quarter. We didn't finish and they did."

— Alabama head coach Nick Saban

"Too much speed. Just too much of the things you can't teach."

— Bobby Bowden, FSU head coach

"Florida is about the fastest college team I have ever seen. I like watching them use their speed to overwhelm opponents."

— Stanford Routt, Oakland Raiders cornerback

"You can't make a mistake (against them). You make a mistake covering a receiver and he's to the house. You miss a tackle as a linebacker and it's to the house. They've got game-breakers."

— DeAngelo Hall, Washington Redskins cornerback

"How do we want to look as a team? I was lucky enough to go up and see Urban Meyer practice at Florida and I'm looking at Percy Harvin and those guys on the field work out and they're all ripped. I'm looking at all those guys running around, Louis Murphy and I'm going, 'Wow, look at this team!' Then I look to my left and there's a bunch of underclassmen and they're all jacked up, all ripped. They looked like the guys from (the movie) 300. And I'm like, 'Man, I want our team to look like that.' I called them up and started stealing stuff from Urban. I am not afraid to be a thief."

— Raheem Morris, Tampa Bay Buccaneers head coach

"Every time I have seen Florida play, it looks like every guy who touches the ball is faster than the guy who had it the time before and has a better chance of scoring than the guy who just had it."

— Bill Belichick, New England Patriots Head Coach

"Give the Florida Gators a team they can dominate, and they will mesmerize you with their speed and athletic gifts. Make them work, however, and the Gators will call on the heat and guts that have become the indelible trademark of Urban Meyer's teams."

— ESPN.com Ivan Maisel

"How did these guys get so tough? Some of it goes back to their quarterback, the toughest player in sports. A lot of it goes to their strength coach Mickey Marotti, who pushed them so hard during the offseason. But in the end, it's up to every player individually to man up."

— Gainesville Sun Pat Dooley

Facility

The program is focused on prevention of athletic injuries. When injuries do occur, the Sports Health staff's job is to evaluate, provide immediate care, treat and rehabilitate the injury until the athlete is ready to return to the playing field in a safe, timely manner. Working with everyone involved is the key. Our goal is to provide world-class care to our athletes.

3D Motion Analysis

During prehab screening, the Sports Health Staff utilizes the motion analysis lab and its findings to address underlying problems that could eventually cause injury. The lab, located at Orthopedics Sports Medicine Institute in Gainesville, Fla., is one of the largest facilities of its kind in the United States. The motion analysis and biomechanics facility features an 11-camera, three-dimensional infrared digital camera system. The same technology has been used extensively by Electronic Arts Video Game design company and major Hollywood motion picture studios. The system allows our researchers and analysts the ability to examine the biomechanics of our players' movements at an astonishing 500 images per second. This data is then compiled and placed in a data repository. athletes to determine the most optimal biomechanics positioning for avoiding injury and improving human performance.

• A Florida receiver has been drafted in 14 of the last 16 years, and 19 Gator wide-outs have been selected during that stretch. In all, there have been 33 UF wide receivers selected in the draft. Harvin was the highest Gator wide receiver drafted since Travis Taylor was chosen with the 10th-overall pick by the Baltimore Ravens in the 2000 NFL Draft.

• Florida is one of two schools to have a wide receiver selected in each of the last four NFL Drafts. During that time frame, Florida is tied with two other schools for the most receivers drafted with six.

• Under head coach Urban Meyer, Florida has had 17 players taken in the NFL Draft, tied for third-most in the SEC since the 2006 Draft. There were nine Gators taken in the 2007 Draft, the most from a single SEC school in the past four years.

• UF had at least 40 players chosen in the NFL Draft for the decades of 1950, 1970, 1980 and 1990. UF has already had 50 selections from the years 2000-09, setting a school record for choices in a decade.

• Percy Harvin is the fourth first-round draft choice Urban Meyer has coached at Florida, and the fifth overall that Meyer has coached.

• Harvin became the first Gator wide receiver drafted by the Minnesota Vikings. He was the first Florida player selected by the organization since Ciatrick Fason was a fourth-round choice in 2005.

• Louis Murphy became the first Gator receiver selected by the Oakland Raiders, and the first player taken out of Florida by the Raiders since they selected offensive tackle Mo Collins in the first round of the 1998 Draft.

• Cornelius Ingram became the ninth tight end drafted out of Florida, and the first since Ben Troupe was selected by the Tennessee Titans in the second round of the 2004 Draft.

• The selection of Ingram marked the first time that Philadelphia picked a tight end from Florida, and Ingram became the 12th Gator drafted by the Eagles. The last time Philadelphia selected a player from Florida was in the 2002 Draft, when they took cornerback Lito Sheppard in the first round.

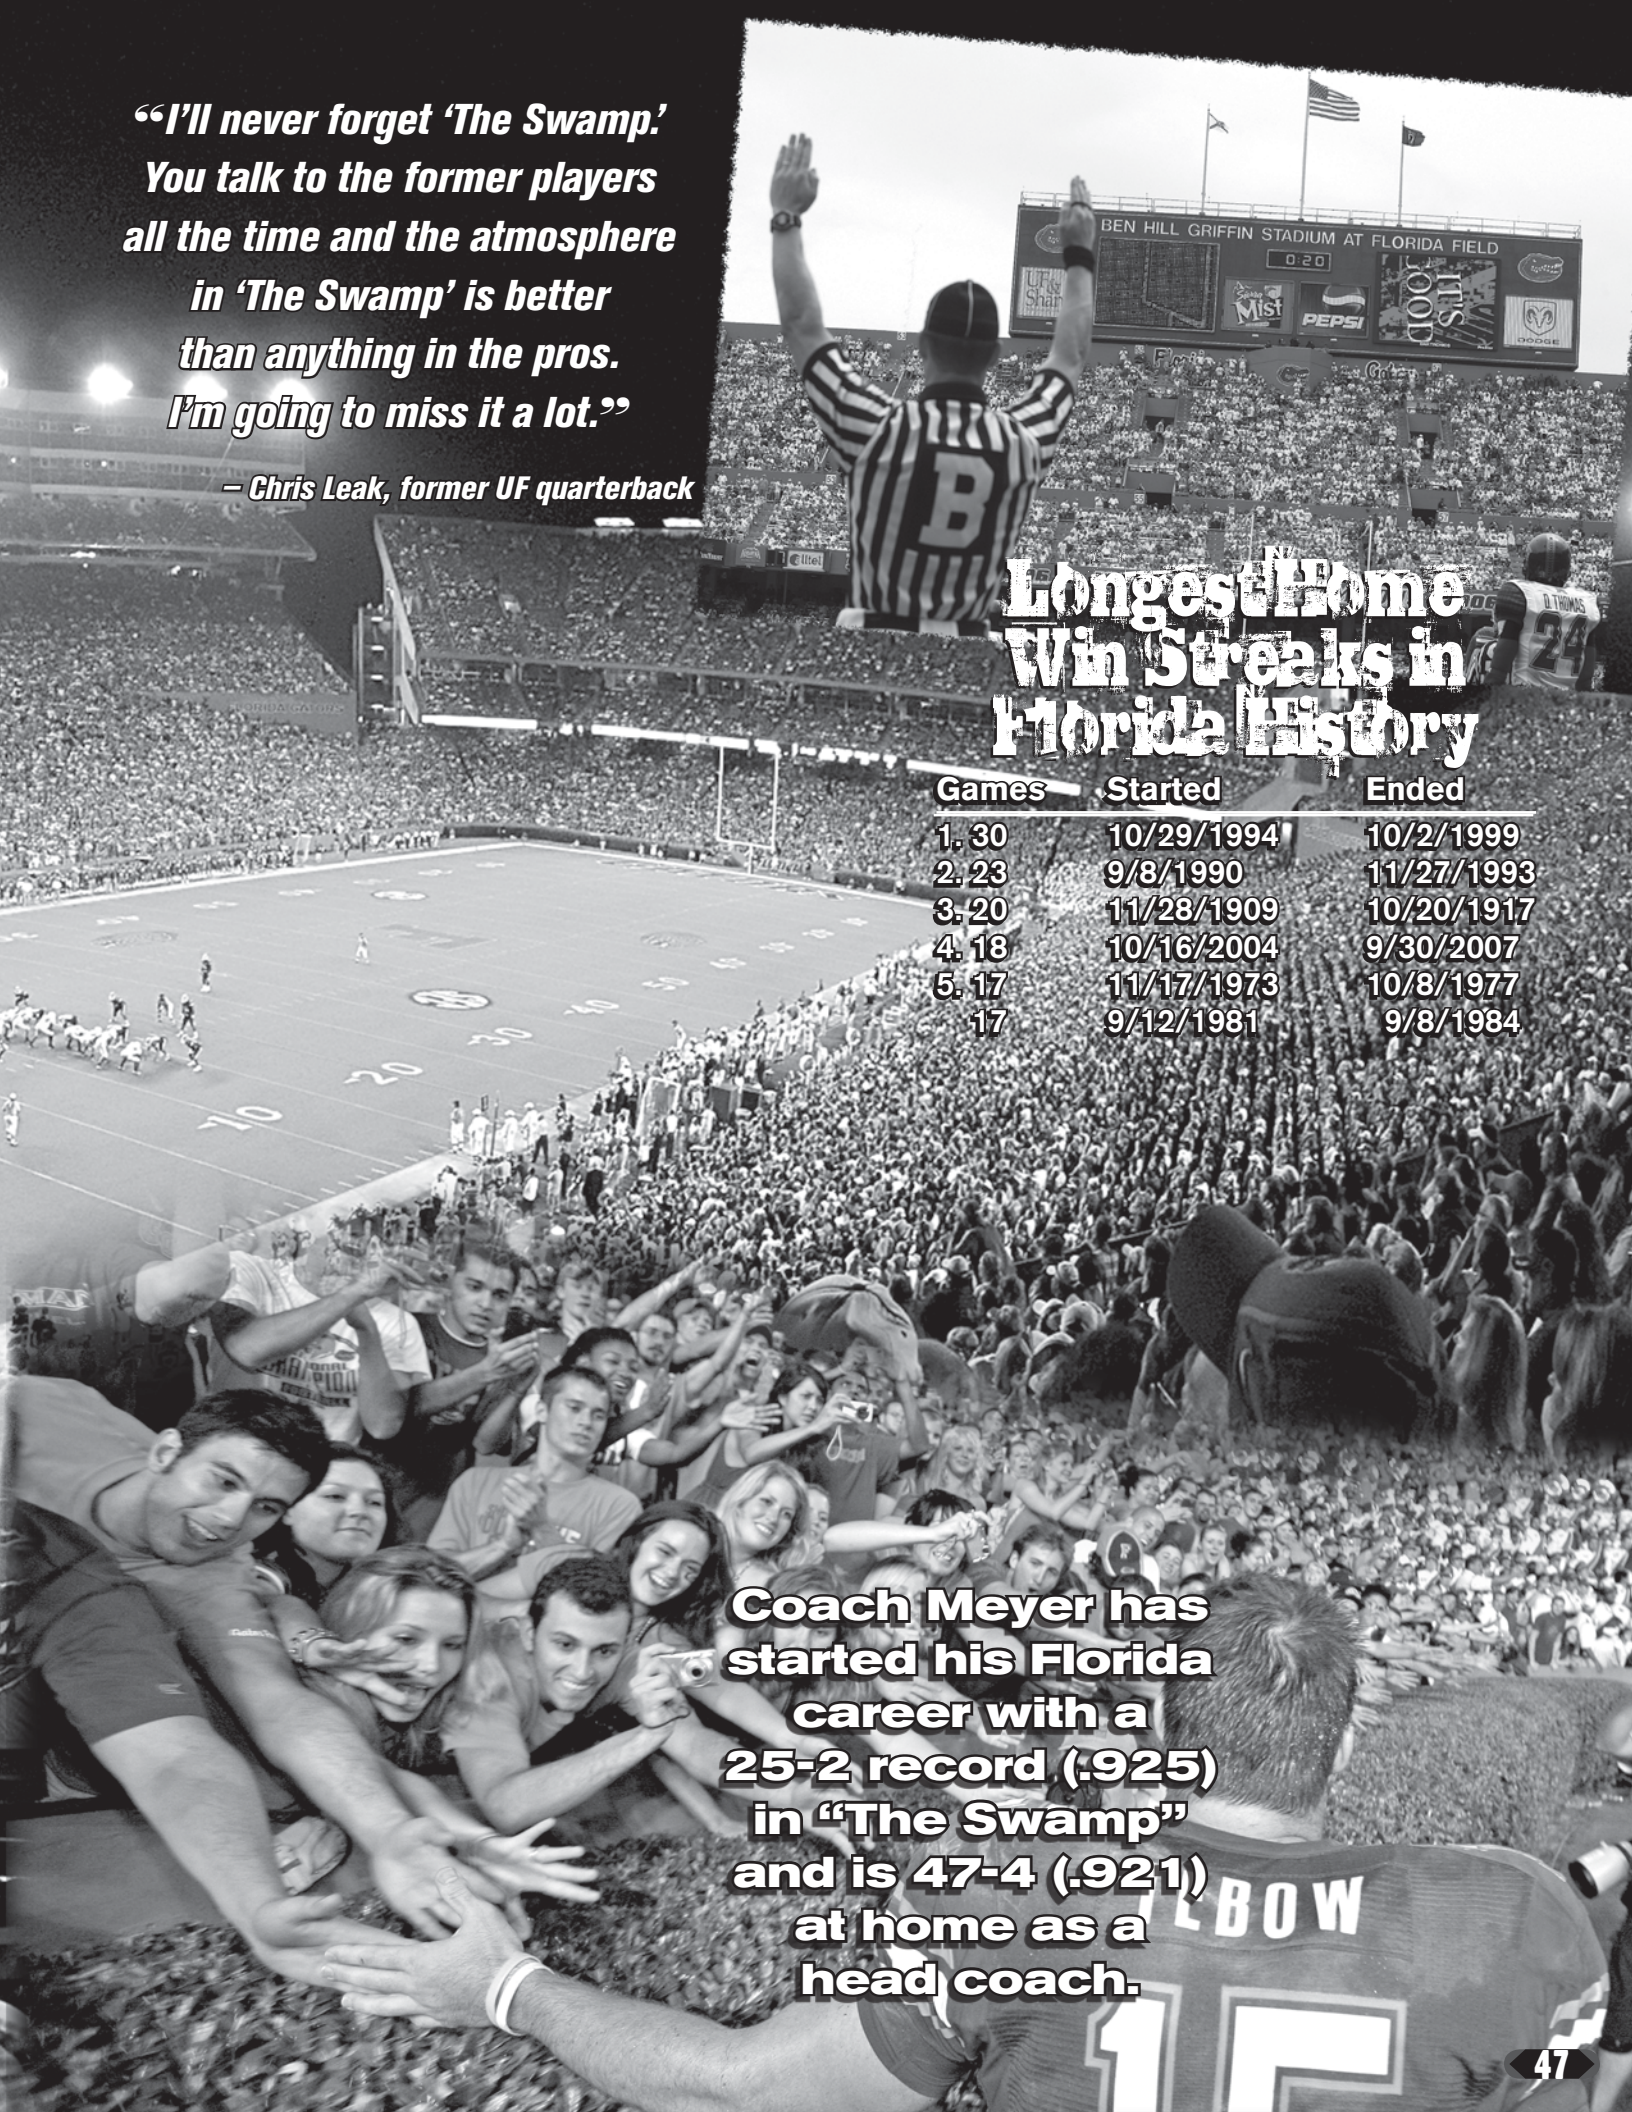
THE SWAMP

"We want our team to realize what it means to play in 'The Swamp.' Our opponents should fear the environment here, which is the toughest in college football. This place is just not like any other place in the nation. When I was at Notre Dame I recruited the state of Florida. I was driving up to Lake City to see a guy and passed by Gainesville. I thought to myself, 'I'm going to go take a look and see why I keep losing a percentage of guys to this University.' I was only supposed to be here for about an hour, but I was here for about two. I stood on the fifty-yard line. It was a heck of a deal. I called my wife and said, 'Now I understand.'"

–Florida head coach Urban Meyer



"I'll never forget 'The Swamp.' You talk to the former players all the time and the atmosphere in 'The Swamp' is better than anything in the pros. I'm going to miss it a lot."

– Chris Leak, former UF quarterback

OFFENSE

The Gator offense has produced 79 All-Americans, 101 first-team All-SEC selections, 22 first-round NFL Draft picks and three Heisman Trophy winners. A Gator offensive player has finished in the top-10 of the Heisman Trophy balloting 12 times since 1965.

Under Coach Meyer, a Florida offensive player has earned the following honors: Heisman Trophy Winner, Maxwell Award Winner, Davey O'Brien Award Winner, Sullivan Award Winner, Wuerffel Trophy Winner, Manning Award Winner, National Player of the Year, SEC Player of the Year, SEC Offensive Player of the Year, All-American, MVP of the BCS National Championship Game, the SEC Championship Game and the Outback Bowl.

The Gators have ranked among the SEC's top-five teams in the following offensive categories in each of the last four seasons: scoring offense, rushing offense, passing offense, total offense, pass efficiency, first downs and third-down conversions.

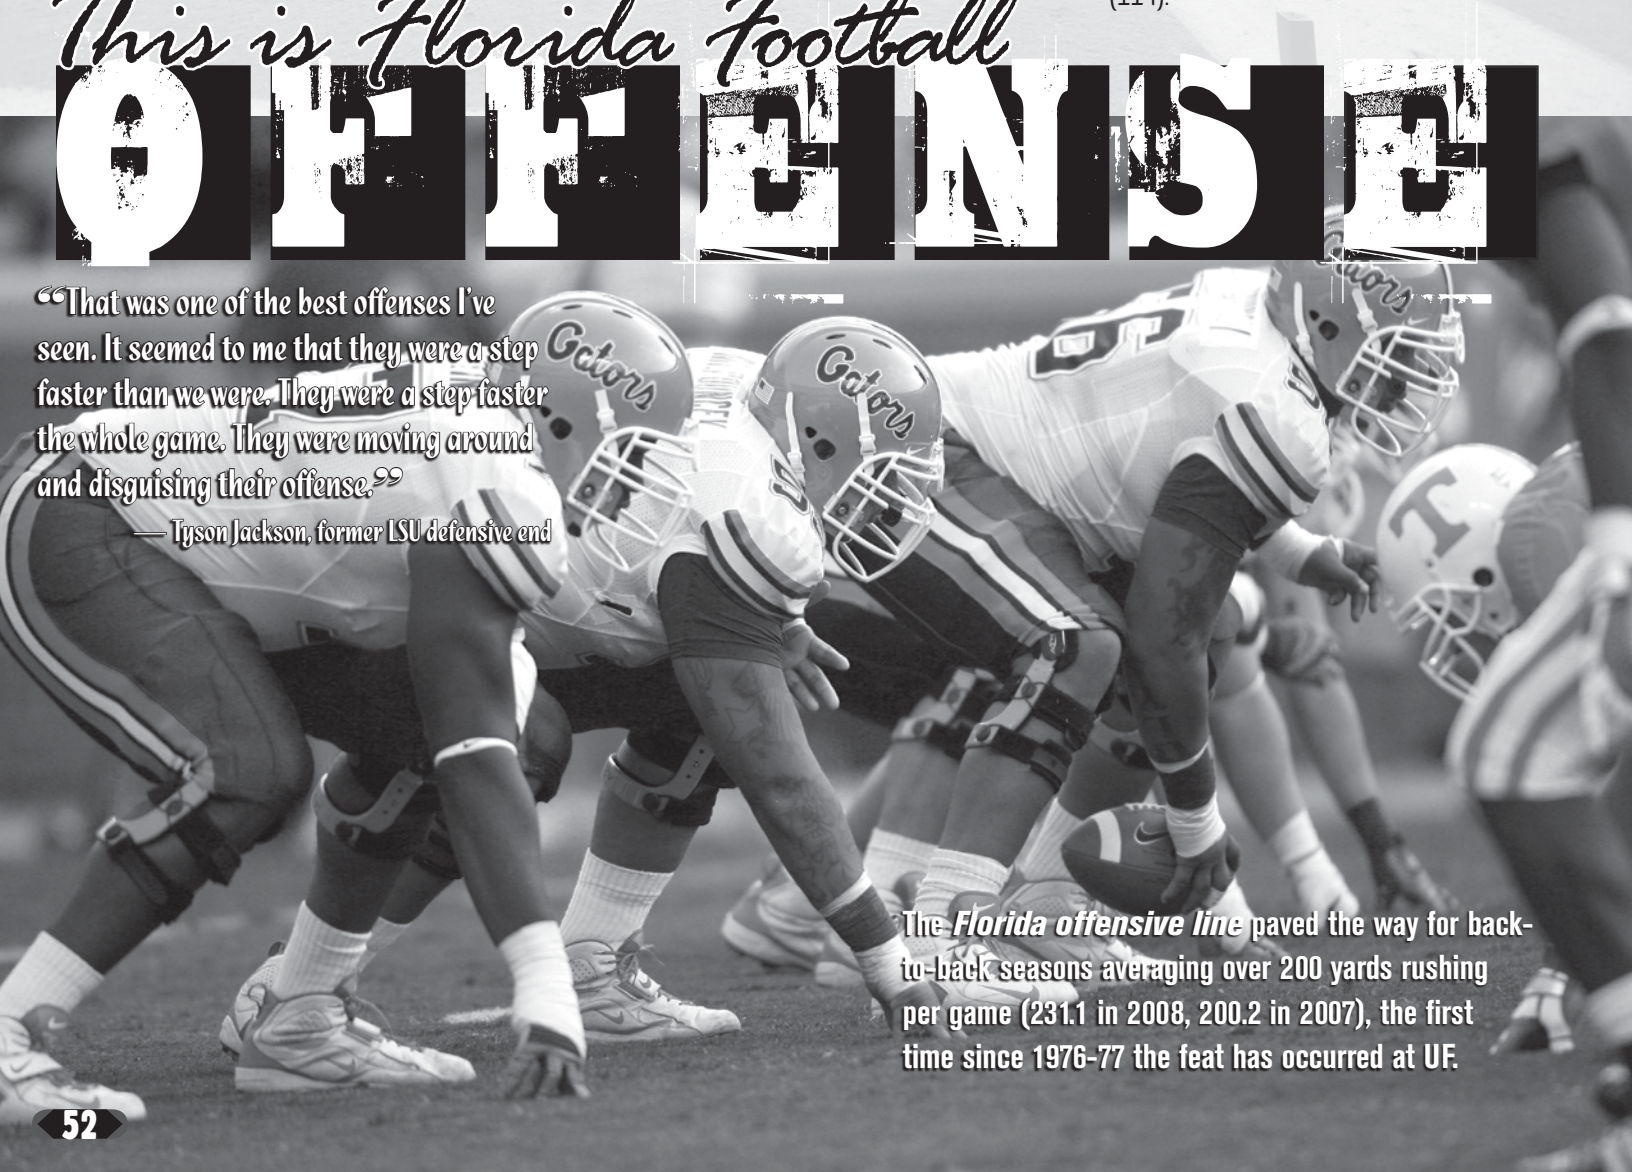
Since becoming a head coach in 2001, Urban Meyer's offenses are one of only three in the nation to pass for more than 225 yards per game and rush for more than 190 yards per game during that time frame.

The 2008 Florida offense . . .

- Was the highest-scoring offense in the history of the SEC, totaling 611 points and averaging 43.6 points per game. Florida's scoring offense ranked fourth in the country.
- Rushed for 231.1 yards/game, the highest average since Emmitt Smith led the 1989 Gators to an average of 244.8 yards per game. In 2007, UF averaged 200.2 rushing yards per game, marking the first time since 1976-77 that UF averaged over 200 yards per game rushing in back-to-back seasons.
- Had 20 different players touch the ball on offense. Fourteen players had at least one carry and 12 had at least one catch. Five different players led UF in rushing and eight different players led UF in receptions in 2008.

Under head coach Urban Meyer . . .

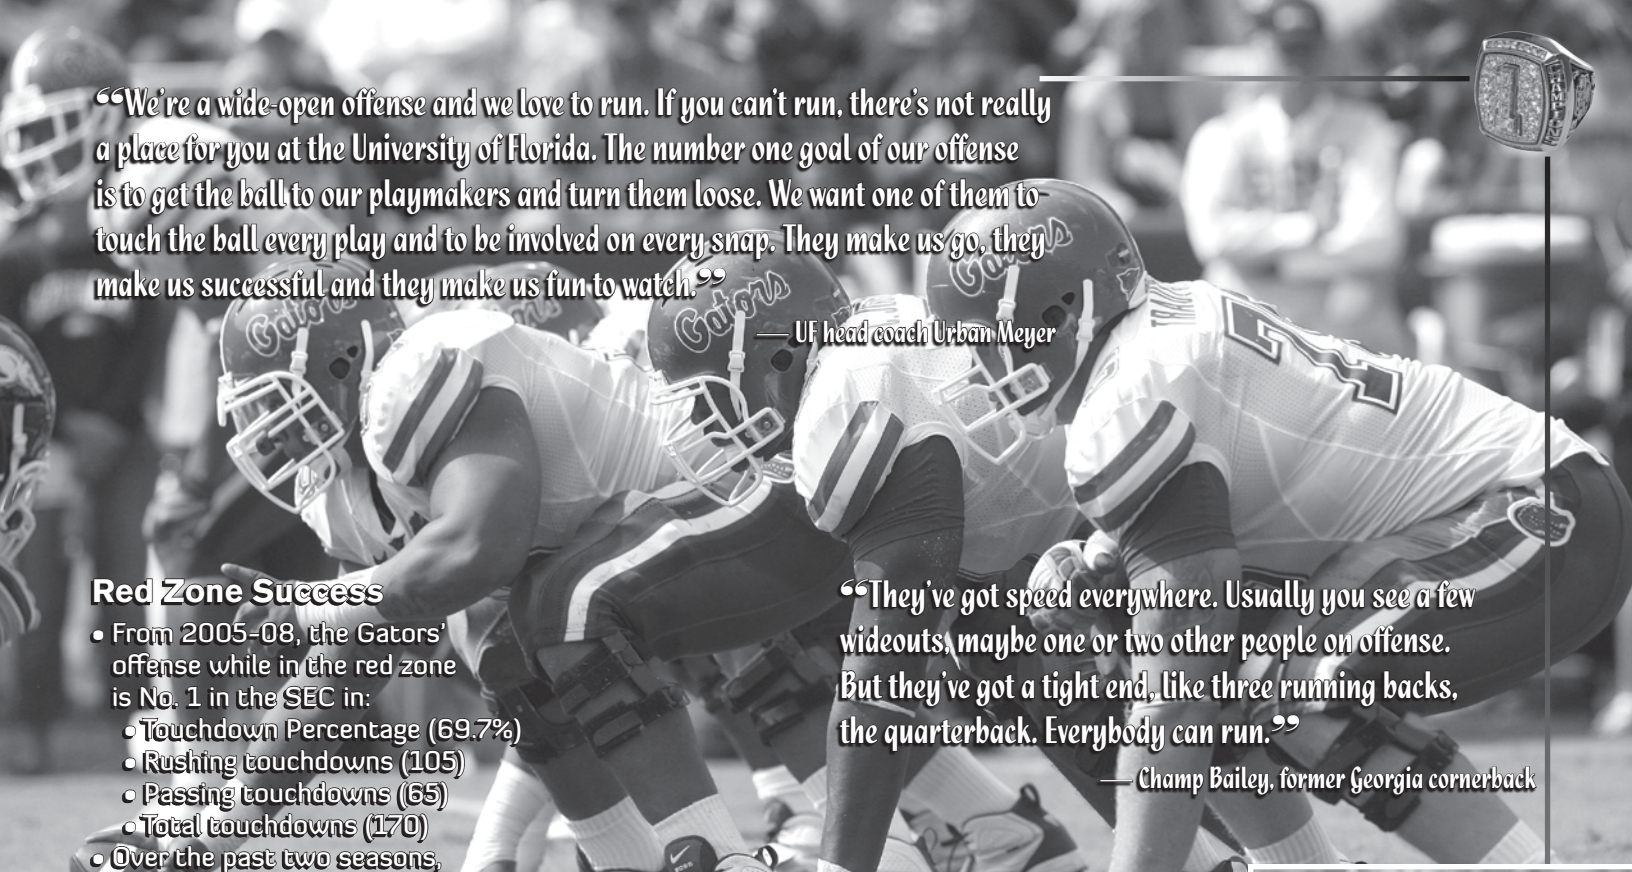
- UF has outrushed 47 of 53 opponents and rushed for a touchdown in 48 of 53 games, totaling 124 rushing touchdowns.
- UF is one of five teams in the nation to pass for 110-or-more and rush for 110-or-more touchdowns since 2005.
- UF has scored 138 touchdowns in SEC play, the most of any school in the conference since 2005.
- The Gators were the only team in the SEC to pass for more than 30 touchdowns and rush for more than 40 touchdowns during the 2008 season. They were also the only team in the conference to rush for over 3,000 yards and pass for more than 2,900 yards.
- Since Urban Meyer's arrival in Gainesville in 2005, the Gators are the only team in the SEC to rush for more than 9,000 yards and pass for more than 12,000 yards. During that same time, UF has led the league in rushing touchdowns (124) and passing touchdowns (114).



"That was one of the best offenses I've seen. It seemed to me that they were a step faster than we were. They were a step faster the whole game. They were moving around and disguising their offense."

— Tyson Jackson, former LSU defensive end

The Florida offensive line paved the way for back-to-back seasons averaging over 200 yards rushing per game (231.1 in 2008, 200.2 in 2007), the first time since 1976-77 the feat has occurred at UF.



"We're a wide-open offense and we love to run. If you can't run, there's not really a place for you at the University of Florida. The number one goal of our offense is to get the ball to our playmakers and turn them loose. We want one of them to touch the ball every play and to be involved on every snap. They make us go, they make us successful and they make us fun to watch."

— UF head coach Urban Meyer

Red Zone Success

- From 2005-08, the Gators' offense while in the red zone is No. 1 in the SEC in:
  - Touchdown Percentage (69.7%)
  - Rushing touchdowns (105)
  - Passing touchdowns (65)
  - Total touchdowns (170)
- Over the past two seasons, Florida's offense has scored a touchdown on 75% of its trips into the red zone, No. 4 in the nation during that span.

"They've got speed everywhere. Usually you see a few wideouts, maybe one or two other people on offense. But they've got a tight end, like three running backs, the quarterback. Everybody can run."

— Champ Bailey, former Georgia cornerback

The Gator defense has produced 68 different players who have earned All-American honors, including 28 who achieved first-team recognition. UF's defense has produced nine All-Americans and 13 All-SEC honorees in the last four seasons.

UF set a BCS record for fewest yards allowed in the National Championship Game against Ohio State in 2006, giving up just 82 yards on the night. That performance shattered the previous record by 72 yards.

The Gators held the high-scoring Oklahoma offense to 14 points in last year's BCS Championship Game despite the Sooners coming into the contest scoring over 60 points in each of their five previous games.

Florida's defensive coaches have 109 years of combined collegiate coaching experience.

Since Charlie Strong was named the defensive coordinator in 2003, the Gators have intercepted 111 passes, which is the fourth-highest total nationally. UF has also intercepted 49 passes in games against top-25 opponents over the span, which is the highest amount in the nation.

The 2008 Florida defense...

- Ranked in the top 10 nationally in six major categories: interceptions (T-1st), turnover margin (2nd), red zone defense (3rd), pass efficiency defense (3rd), scoring defense (4th) and total defense (9th).
- Returned a school-record five interceptions for touchdowns, tied for the most in the nation with Boston College and Missouri. UF recorded at least one interception in 13 of their 14 games in 2008 and set a new school record with 26 interceptions on the season.
- Allowed just five first-half touchdowns all season and outscored opponents 328-58 before the half in 2008. The Gators allowed only nine rushing touchdowns (T-10th nationally) and 12 passing touchdowns (T-13th nationally) the entire season.

Under head coach Urban Meyer . . .

- The Florida defense has produced three first-round picks in the NFL Draft. Six defensive linemen from the University of Florida have been selected in the NFL Draft while Coach Meyer has been in Gainesville. The total is the highest by any school in the nation.
- Florida is one of only four schools in the nation to rank inside the top 15 nationally each of the past four years in rushing defense.
- The Gators have held opponents to 93.5 rushing yards per game in the past four years. The total over that span ranks sixth in the nation and is the best among SEC teams.
- Florida has scored 411 points off turnovers created by the defense since 2005.

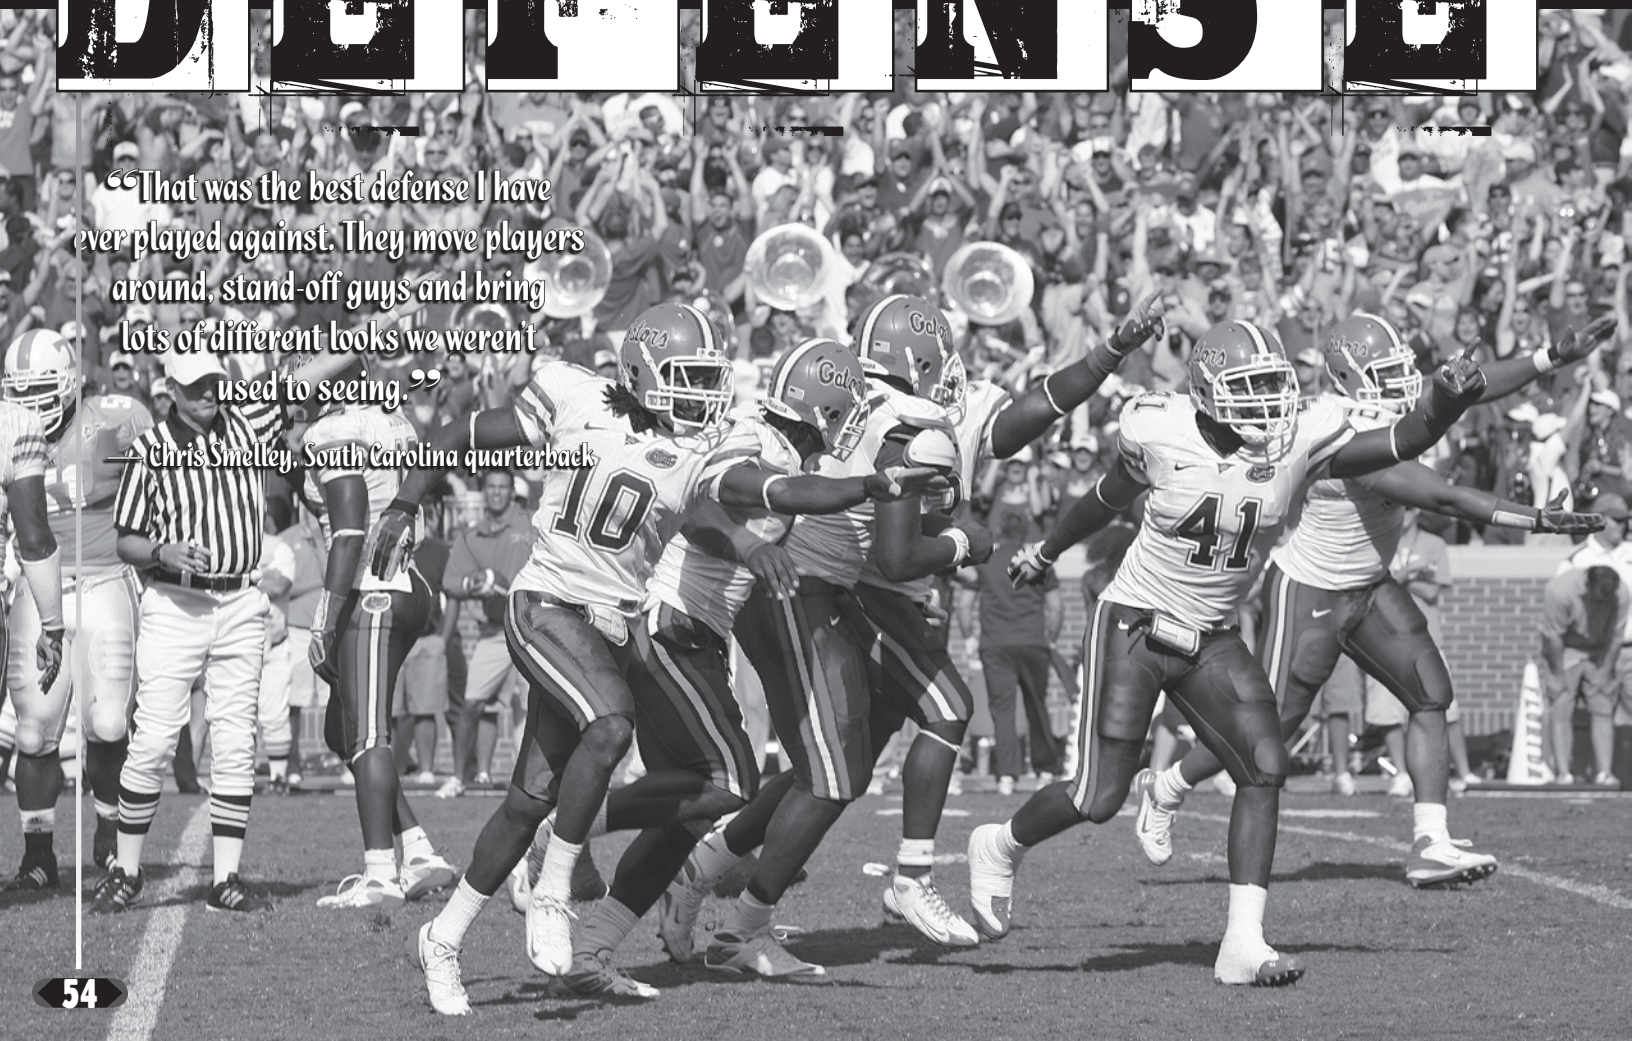
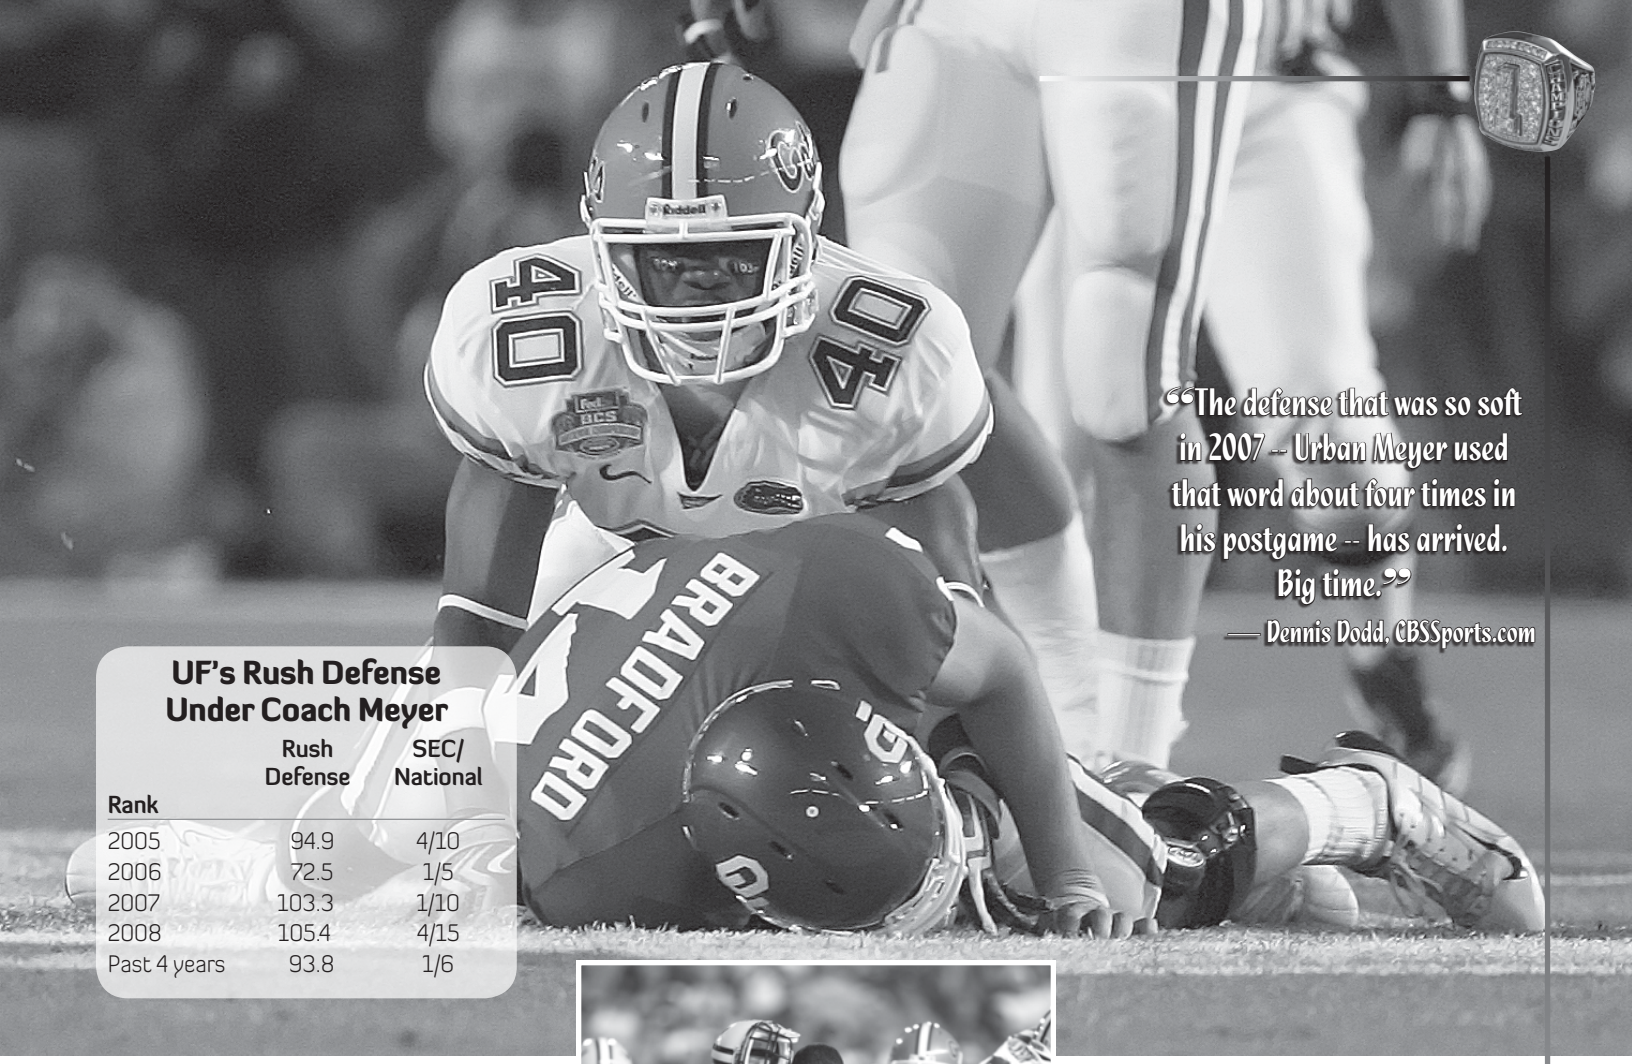
DEFENSE



"That was the best defense I have ever played against. They move players around, stand-off guys and bring lots of different looks we weren't used to seeing."
— Chris Smelley, South Carolina quarterback



"The defense that was so soft in 2007 -- Urban Meyer used that word about four times in his postgame -- has arrived. Big time."

— Dennis Dodd, CBSSports.com

Safety Ahmad Black intercepted seven passes in 2008, tied for the most in the nation.

The 2008 Florida special teams…

- UF blocked nine kicks on the season (five punts, three FG and one PAT) to match the school record set in 1995. They also tied the school record with three blocked kicks in one game against Kentucky (two punts, one FG). Five blocked punts matched the most under Coach Meyer for UF.
- Jonathan Phillips connected on 78 PATs, which ranked second nationally and set a new school and SEC record. Phillips tied for the national lead in field goal percentage (.923) among all kickers who attempted at least 10 field goals.
- Brandon James had 25 punt return yards against Alabama, setting a UF single-season record with 510 return yards on the year. He also set an SEC Championship Game record with 121 kickoff return yards in the game. James was also one of only seven players in the country to return two or more punts for touchdowns last season.
- Chas Henry averaged 43.4 yards per punt on his 44 kicks last season, which was third in the SEC. In the BCS National Championship Game, Henry averaged 51.7 yards on three punts. He had 15 punts of 50-or-more yards and landed 21 punts inside the 20 yard line.
- Carlos Dunlap blocked two punts against Vanderbilt, raising his career total to three, more than any other player under Coach Meyer.

Under head coach Urban Meyer . . .

- Florida allowed only five punt returns for a total of 22 yards in 2007, leading the nation in both categories. The previous low for fewest punt return yards allowed by UF in a season was 47 yards on 11 punt returns in 1990.
- UF has allowed the fewest punt returns (56) and punt return yards (231) in the nation since 2005. That's an average of just 4.1 yards per return, also tops in the country.
- The Gators have blocked 26 kicks (16 punts, seven field goals and three extra-points) since 2005, the most blocked kicks of any team in the nation.
- Florida has amassed 1,734 punt return yards, the highest total in the SEC since 2005. Brandon James has totaled 3,089 punt and kick return yards in his three years at UF. That total is the highest in the country by one player during that three-year span.
- UF has been a perfect 7-for-7 on executing fake punts. In 2008, the Gators successfully completed two fake punts. Punter Chas Henry ran 17 yards for a first down against Hawaii, and Brandon James scampered 10 yards against Arkansas to keep a drive alive.

SPECIAL Teams

"Our offense gets a lot of attention, but our success is really the direct result of our play on special teams. Our special teams' philosophy is predicated on two things: taking care of the ball and winning the battle of field position. When we do those things, both our offense and defense have exponentially better chances of success."

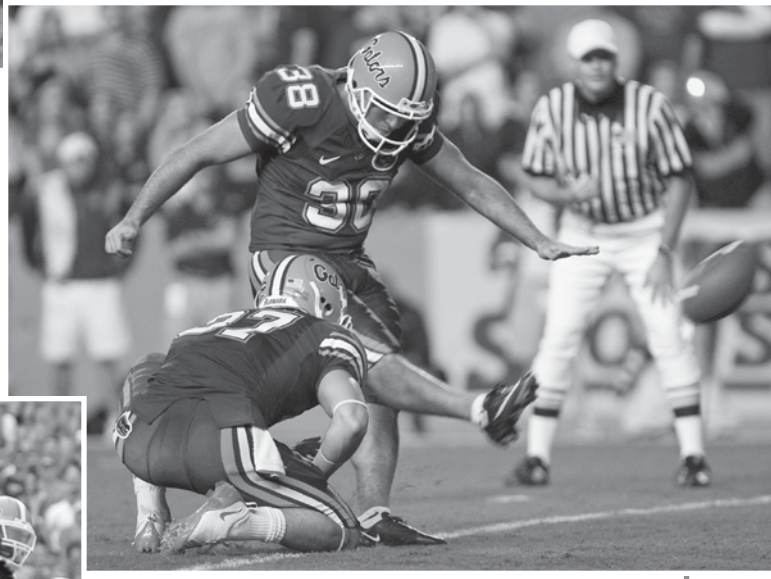
— UF head coach Urban Meyer

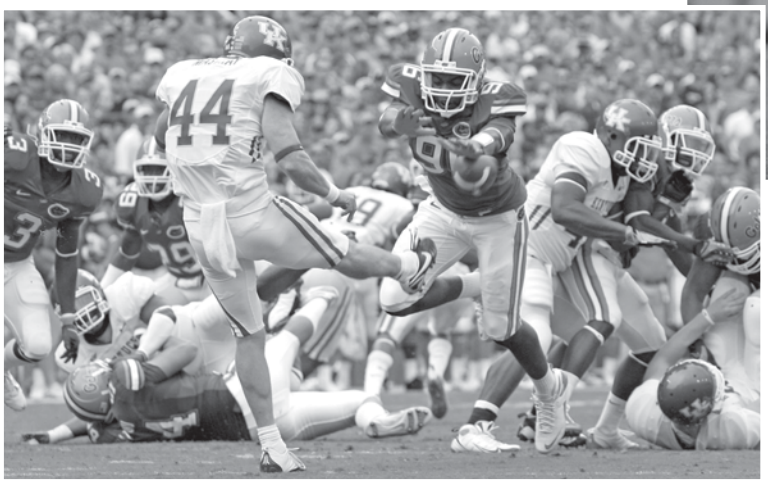
"What other college in the nation focuses on special teams and what other college in the nation has their head coach as the special teams coordinator and really cares about special teams as much as Coach Meyer does? It's great to have. Special teams are high on his priority list. Starters want to play on special teams."

— Chas Henry, UF punter

"All the coaches I've been around emphasize (special teams). But I've never been around a head coach who is so successfully involved as Urban is. It's an unbelievable payoff on game day and a reward for the whole team when you see the investment and the commitment and how hard he works and the plan he puts together."

— Dan McCarney, UF Defensive Line Coach





"You know the defenses and offenses are going to come out and play. Special teams are going to determine the game."

— Brandon James, UF return man

Community Involvement

Goodwill Gators Mission

Mission Statement

The mission of the University Athletic Association's Goodwill Gators Community Outreach Program is to foster citizenship between administration, coaches, student-athletes and the greater Gainesville community. Through volunteerism, Goodwill Gators will:

- strengthen our commitment to greater Gainesville and the surrounding communities.
- encourage citizenship, civic virtues and how one should behave as part of a community.
- enhance the personal development of student-athletes.

History

With the accolades and benefits received by student-athletes come responsibilities. Student-athletes have a responsibility to serve the community that supports them as they grow physically, mentally and emotionally. The Goodwill Gators program understands and meets the need to be involved within the community by participating in weekly and annual service projects.

The Goodwill Gators program provides student-athletes with quality volunteer opportunities that allow them to give back to the community. In turn, the community may utilize the Goodwill Gator student-athletes as positive role models, eager volunteers and motivational speakers.

The Goodwill Gators program has been recognized nationally by the National Consortium of Academics and Sports (1998, 2000-07) for its outreach and service commitment to the community. Student-athletes have demonstrated a high commitment to the Goodwill Gators program making consistent appearances with several organizations.

Gator Tracks is an "angel tree"-type program that takes place during the holiday season. Local elementary school teachers provide the Gators with children's first names and shoe sizes, after recognizing that they are in need of new sneakers.

BLAQUE

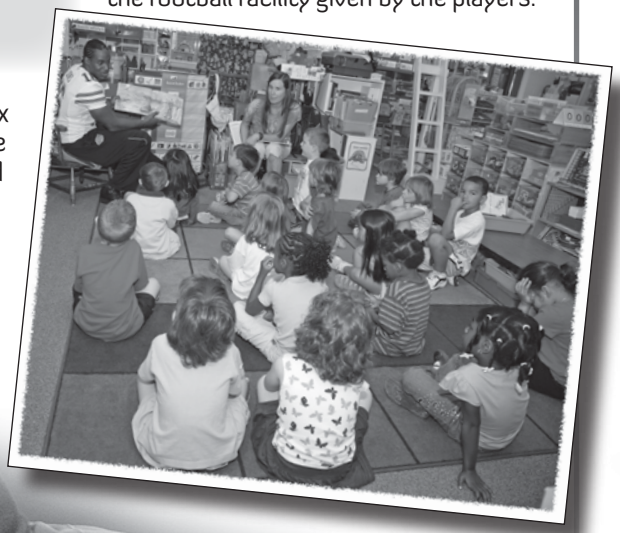
In the spring of 2008, Florida Coach Urban Meyer initiated a mentor program for young at-risk males. Working with the African-American Accountability Alliance of Alachua County task force, the program BLAQUE (Bold Leaders, Achieving Quality, Unity and Excellence) was developed. The program partnered 15 area middle school children with a Gator football player and a community leader. The goal is to affect change in the lives of at-risk black youth.

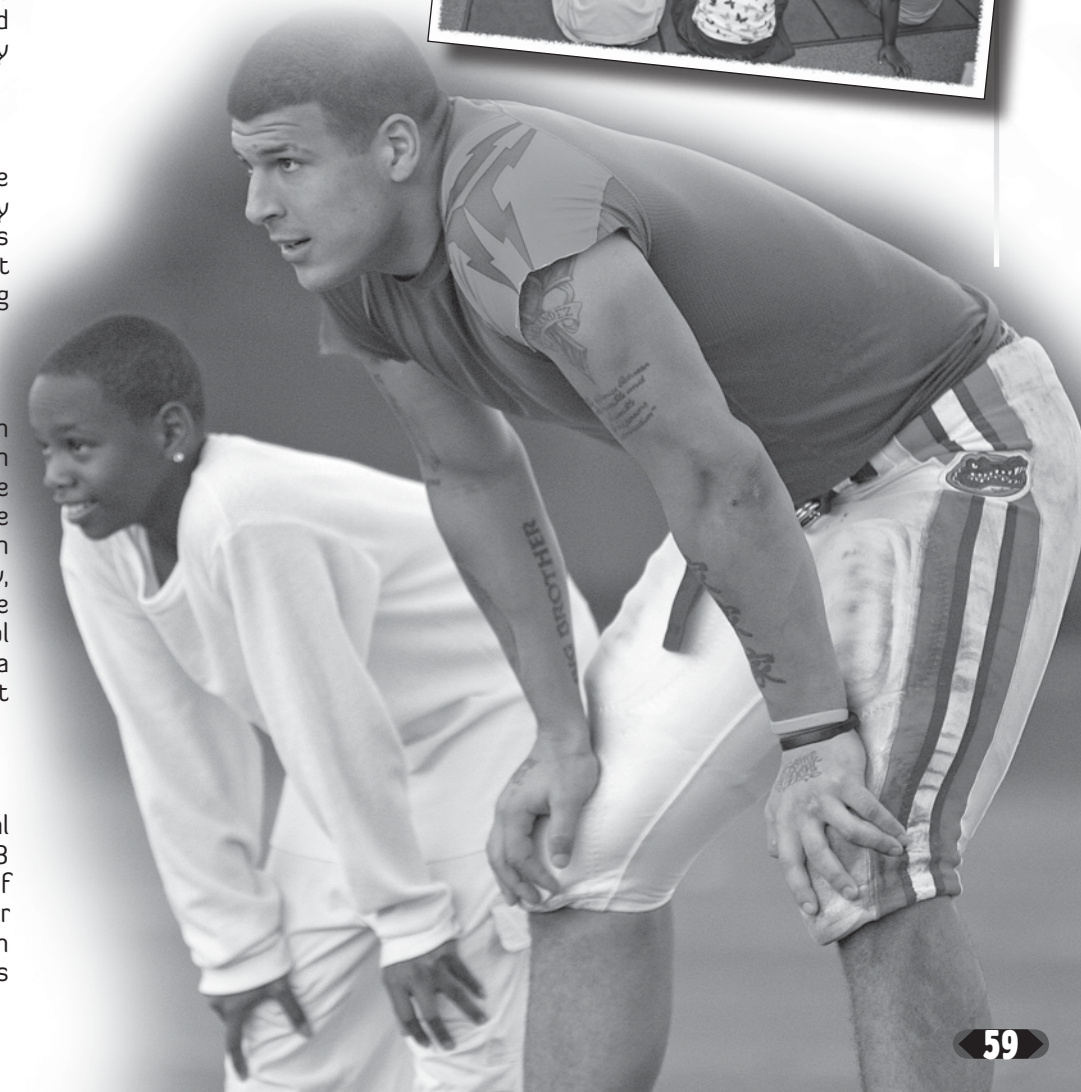
Gator Charity Challenge

The UF football team held the inaugural Gator Charity Challenge in August of 2008 at Ben Hill Griffin Stadium in front of approximately 1,800 people. The fundraiser featured the 2008 Gators challenging each other in a series of strength competitions to raise funds and awareness for six charities that were selected by the football program and are affiliated with Shands, a University partner. The charities were the American Cancer Society, American Diabetes Association, American Heart Association, Children's Miracle Network, March of Dimes and the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. The Gator Charity Challenge was held in association with Uplifting Athletes. The second annual Gator Charity Challenge is scheduled for July 31, 2009.

Swamp Field Trip

A new program beginning in the spring of 2009, the "Swamp Field Trip" is available to local middle schools as a reward for their students who achieve good grades, are involved in community service, have had major improvements, etc. The students have the opportunity to speak with a group of players and have a special tour of the football facility given by the players.

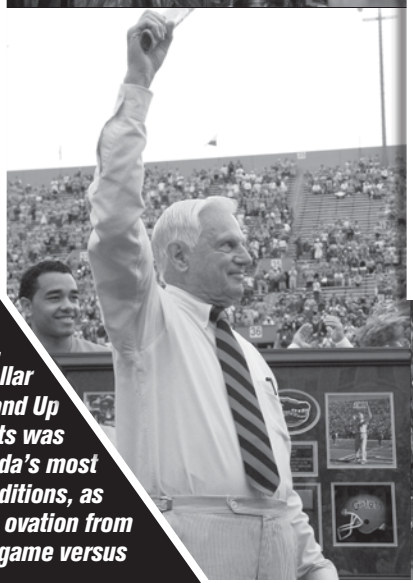




FLORIDA GAME DAY

The tradition of Florida's Gator Walk is not confined to Ben Hill Griffin Stadium, as players and coaches were greeted at Jacksonville Municipal Stadium for the 2008 Florida/ Georgia game.

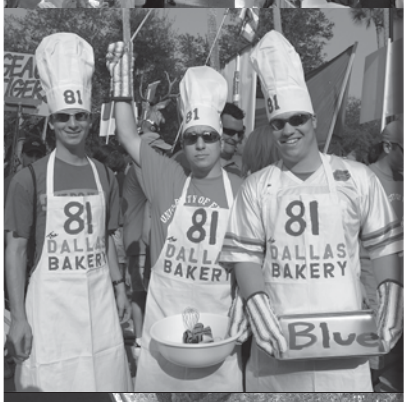
The 2008 National Championship season marked the final season for Mr. Two Bits. For over 50 years, Tampa resident and avid Gator fan George Edmondson would travel from section to section at all Gator games leading rousing renditions of "Two Bits, Four Bits, Six Bits, a Dollar – All for the Gators, Stand Up and Holler!" Mr. Two Bits was honored as one of Florida's most beloved Gator spirit traditions, as he received a standing ovation from Gator fans prior to the game versus Kentucky.



Established by Coach Meyer prior to the Wyoming game his first season, the "Gator Walk" gives fans the opportunity to greet the team upon arrival at the stadium two hours prior to kickoff. Fans join the UF cheerleaders, mascots and pep band to wish the team well prior to home contests. The Gators exit team buses on the corner of University Ave. and Gale Lemerand Drive and walk along the sidewalk into the stadium and across Florida Field on their way to the locker room.

"Gainesville is land-locked and gets no breeze from the Atlantic or the Gulf. But that's part of the charm of game day, with the heat and humidity reaching sweltering levels on the field. Forget about hand fans or wet towels or any other cooling device. It's hot and humid. Deal with it."

— Matt Hayes, The Sporting News



The Boys From Old Florida

At the end of the third quarter, the band strikes up "We Are the Boys from Old Florida," and all Gator fans stand together and sway left and right, arm-in-arm, while singing this traditional tune.

Gator Growl

Perhaps the most exciting event at the University of Florida is packed into one weekend when Florida puts on the largest student-run Homecoming extravaganza in the nation. The night before the Homecoming game, more than 65,000 people pack the football stadium for Gator Growl, which is the largest student-ran pep rally in the nation. Past Gator Growl performers include: Wayne Brady, Bill Cosby, Billy Crystal, Jay Leno, Jerry Seinfeld, Sinbad and Robin Williams.

Singing the Fight Song With the Student Section

In another Coach Meyer-inspired experience, the Florida players now sing the UF Fight Song, "The Orange and Blue," and the Alma Mater following each home contest as the players and coaches join the band and the student section following each home contest in the Northwest corner of the stadium.

Alumni Tunnel

Since Coach Meyer's arrival in Gainesville, he has made former players feel welcome in "The Swamp." One way of intertwining the past and present that has already progressed is the Alumni Tunnel. Prior to the first home game of the season, when current Gators run out of the tunnel on to Florida Field several football letterwinners form an extension of the tunnel through which the team passes.

Captains' Legacy Dinner

New for the 2006 season, former team captains were invited to a team dinner with current players on the Friday before the Homecoming game vs. LSU. The dinner offered the present team a way to interact and learn from proven leaders. Captains were invited to bring their families to the game on Saturday.

Former Letterwinners BBQ

In his continuing effort to have former players be a part of the program, Coach Meyer invites every letterwinner and their family to attend a BBQ with the current team prior to each season. In Meyer's three years as head coach of the Gators, over 2,000 former players and their family members have attended the event.

Pride of the Sunshine

The University of Florida Fightin' Gator Marching Band (also known as The Pride of the Sunshine) plays at every UF game.

"I thought that was big-time. They stopped us when we were on the way to do the Gator Walk and said there were just thousands and thousands of people along the way. I really appreciate all of those people coming out, and I thought it was fantastic we could show our appreciation to them in that way."

— UF head coach Urban Meyer commenting on the Gator Walk following his first game in "The Swamp"

"We love our student body. That's one thing Coach Meyer has changed around here. It used to be we'd go play the game for ourselves and we were looked at in a different way, but now we always thank the student body and fans by singing the school's fight song after games as one way to show them appreciation."

— Tate Casey, former UF tight end

WALK-ONS

For years, the University of Florida football program has encouraged and fostered a walk-on program that gives many young men every year the opportunity to live their dream of playing major college football.

Many former walk-ons have eventually earned scholarships (45 alone since 1990), earned starting positions, gained All-SEC and All-America honors and even eventually played pro football. None of those players would have lived their dream and reached their potential if the University of Florida hadn't extended the opportunity they were seeking. Their eventual success has become a cherished part of the Gator football tradition and heritage.

- Fourteen former Gator walk-ons have gone on to play pro football: LS James Smith, DB Hagood Clarke, DB Allen Trammell, DB Bruce Vaughan, LB James Harrell, WR Lee McGriff, PK John James, PK David Posey, QB Kerwin Bell, DB Louis Oliver, WR Chris Doering, TE Tremayne Allen, PK Jeff Chandler and FB Billy Latsko.
- Former walk-on Louis Oliver was selected in the first round of the 1989 NFL Draft by Miami.
- Former walk-on John James went on to earn All-Pro honors as a punter in the NFL.
- Former walk-on Kerwin Bell earned SEC Player of the Year honors in 1984 and completed his career in 1987 as the greatest statistical passer in SEC history.
- Former walk-on DB Louis Oliver earned first-team All-America honors in 1987 and 1988.
- When Bobby Raymond completed his career in 1984, the former walk-on's name appeared in the NCAA place-kicking records in five separate categories.
- Walk-on WR Gary Rolle was named Academic All-America and winner of the National Football

Jeff Chandler (left) earned a scholarship prior to the 1999 season and then gained second-team All-America honors that season. The two-time semifinalist for the Groza National Place-Kicker of the Year Award became UF's all-time leading scorer by the time he departed after the 2001 season.

URBAN MEYER

When University of Florida Athletics Director Jeremy Foley hired Urban Meyer on December 4, 2004, the goal was to return Florida football to Southeastern Conference and national prominence.

Did You Know?... Coach Meyer is 13-2 against the current top-10 winningest active coaches in college football.

Coach Meyer is one of two active coaches to win a pair of outright national championships, coach a Heisman Trophy winner and coach a number one overall pick in the National Football League Draft.

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED

Urban Meyer

Head Football Coach

In four seasons, Meyer has guided the Gators to a pair of national championships, two Southeastern Conference Championships and has posted the best record in the SEC during the last four years (24-8). He has led the Gators to 35 wins during the last three seasons, tied for the best victory total in the nation during that time. His 44-9 mark during the last four seasons is tied for thrid best total in the nation during that time span.

Meyer is the first coach ever to win two BCS National Championships and he is the only coach in the history of the SEC to win two outright National Titles.

Meyer, 44, became the fifth-youngest head coach to win a pair of national titles since 1950 and he is one of five coaches to win a pair of national championships in his first four years at a school.

Meyer is one of two active coaches to win a pair of outright national championships, coach a Heisman Trophy winner and coach a No. 1-overall pick in the National Football League Draft.

The four-year tenure of Coach Meyer in Gainesville extends beyond the multiple national and SEC Championships.

Meyer, who has 23 years of coaching experience, including eight as a head coach, became the only coach in school history to post seven-consecutive wins against UF's traditional rivals — Tennessee, Georgia and Florida State. Overall, Meyer has won 11 of 12 against the trio.

Florida has been ranked in the each of the 66 polls under Coach Meyer, including 47 weeks in the top 10.

Coach Meyer's overall winning percentage of .830 (83-17) makes him the second-winningest coach in the nation, among individuals who have been a head coach for at least five full seasons.

A three-time national Coach-of-the-Year, his career record stands at 83-17 and his .830 winning percentage ranks second nationally among active coaches with at least five years of coaching experience. Just as impressive, Meyer owns a 13-2 (.867) record against the other top-10 active winningest coaches in college football. He is one of seven coaches in the history of Division I-A football to reach 80 wins in eight seasons or less.

He owns a 47-4 (.922) record at home in his career, including 25-2 (.926) in The Swamp. Few are better than getting a team ready to play, as Meyer sports a 27-3 (.900) record when having more than a week to prepare for a game.

Meyer is the only coach ever to have three wins over a No. 1 team in the BCS rankings, defeating Ohio State and Oklahoma in the 2007 and 2009 BCS Championship Games, respectively, and Alabama in the 2008 SEC Championship Game.

Meyer's record after 50 games in the SEC matched the best mark by any coach in the history of the conference, winning 41 of his initial 50 contests.

Seventeen Gators have been selected in the NFL Draft under Meyer, including a nation's best nine in 2007. Four Gators have been first-round draft picks under Meyer and UF has had at least one first-round pick in each of the last three years. Overall, 38 Gators have signed NFL contracts under Meyer.

Off the field, Meyer established the Gators' Leadership Committee, a group of players charged with acting as spokesmen for the team and handling situations related to team policy issues, academic affairs, off-campus circumstances and other topics.

His priority on academics has resulted in more than 43 percent of the University of Florida football scholarship student-athletes earning above a 3.0 GPA in the 2009 Spring Semester and 107 players have been named to the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll in the last four years. His 2008 team tied a league record with 37 players named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll. In 2007, Tim Tebow became the first Florida football player named to First-Team

"I've got a championship ring and a college degree. Not many people get a moment like this in life. I thank God and I thank Coach Meyer because I couldn't have done it without them."

— Dallas Baker, former UF wide receiver

Academic All-America since Danny Wuerffel in 1996. Tebow was also only the second sophomore football player in school history and the fourth sophomore athlete overall at UF to earn first-team Academic All-America honors. In 2008, he was chosen as ESPN The Magazine's Academic All-American of the Year for football and repeated as a first-time Academic All-America selection.

Chris Leak was a finalist for the 2006 Draddy Trophy, dubbed the Academic Heisman, and was selected as the 2006 Fall Graduating Outstanding Leader for all students on campus. Leak was the featured speaker at UF graduation ceremonies in December of 2006 and overall 67 players have graduated under Meyer.

"Countless guys have gotten so much better off the field in just doing what is right and treating people the right way because of Coach Meyer. I think the best thing about him, actually, is that he cares more about how the guys succeed off the field than how they succeed on the field. That's why our team is so close."

— Tim Tebow, UF Quarterback

Meyer is equally committed to the University of Florida, as he and Billy Donovan agreed in October of 2008 to lead a campus charge to raise $50 million for UF's Florida Opportunity Scholars Program. The program was created by UF President Bernie Machen to provide financial assistance to first-generation, financially-disadvantaged students working towards a bachelor's degree.

Meyer's 2008 team featured the most prolific offensive unit in league history, totaling 611 points. Florida became the first school in the history of the SEC to win six-straight league games by 28 points and UF scored 30 or more points in each of its league games.

UF also became the first major college team to win eight consecutive games by 28-plus points since Minnesota in 1903.

The Gators put up those numbers against the nation's second-toughest schedule, facing off against 11 bowl teams. UF posted a 6-0 mark against ranked teams to become the first team in school history to go undefeated against ranked opponents. UF's average margin of victory against ranked teams was 28.3 ppg (combined score of 256-86).

The 2008 team also featured a defense that ranked among the top-10 nationally in total defense and scoring defense and set a school record with 26 interceptions (five returned for a touchdown). UF's special teams tied a school record with nine blocked kicks and its punt return and punt return coverage unit ranked among the top-10 nationally.

Urban Meyer is the only coach in college football to capture two BCS National Championships.

Meyer's 2007 Gator team produced a potent offense as well. Behind Heisman Trophy-winner Tebow, the Gator offense ranked third nationally (42.5 ppg) and was just eight points shy of tying the school mark for most scored in a season. The team led the nation and established a school record by converting on 53 percent of third downs and posted the second-highest passing efficiency mark in the country (170.17). UF was the only school in the nation to both rush and pass for a touchdown in every game.

Against the third-toughest schedule in the nation, UF won nine games for the third-straight year for the first time since 1999-2001 and extended its school record with its 17th-straight bowl appearance – the longest active streak in the SEC.

Meyer captured his first national championship after a 41-14 win over No. 1 ranked Ohio State in Glendale, Ariz.

"I was just mentioning, as we were walking down, there's something about Coach Meyer's teams, they just have a lot of heart. And that's a reflection of coaching values that talk about character and integrity, and not just winning. And so we are very appreciative of the work that you've done, Coach. That's also why it's so easy to tell that these guys have operated like one big family. And that comes across on and off the field."

Florida has been ranked in the AP, Coaches' and BCS polls each week since Urban Meyer's arrival in Gainesville, which is a streak of 66-straight AP and Coaches' polls.

Meyer's Community Service Initiatives and Goodwill Efforts

"Pictures are different than actually going. And the one thing I'll tell you that I didn't understand: when we came back from three or four villages that we went to, people were very happy. I mean, they didn't have a dime and they had struggled putting food on the table. And there wasn't a whole lot of MTV going on, and certainly no video games. But all the families were pretty much intact, mother, father, children. We fed families and I actually went out to the stores, bought the food with my kids. It was unbelievable, for an hour we went shopping, grabbing rice, beans and oil. I could do it all in my head because we did it so much. Our family walked away saying how unbelievable it was to be able to help them... but its not like they are not happy, that was what I didn't expect. I expected extreme poverty and unhappy people. That wasn't the case."

– Urban Meyer on his mission trip to the Dominican Republic

In addition to his on the field accomplishments, Meyer has also championed efforts in community service.

A new initiative beginning in 2009, UF football players will perform more than 400 hours of community service annually, as each student-athlete will attend at least two Goodwill Gator events per semester.

In the spring of 2009, the "Swamp Field Trip" was available to local middle schools as a reward for their students who achieve good grades, are involved in community service or have had major improvements. The students had the opportunity to speak with a group of players and had a special tour of the football facility given by the players.

The UF football team held the inaugural Gator Charity Challenge in August of 2008 at Ben Hill Griffin Stadium in front of approximately 1,800 people. The fundraiser featured the 2008 Gators challenging each other in a series of strength competitions to raise funds and awareness for six charities that were selected by the football program and are affiliated with Shands, a University partner. The charities were the American Cancer Society, American Diabetes Association, American Heart Association, Children's Miracle Network, March of Dimes and the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. The Gator Charity Challenge was held in association with Uplifting Athletes.

In the spring of 2008, Florida Coach Urban Meyer initiated a mentor program for young at-risk males. Working with the African-American Accountability Alliance of Alachua County task force, the program BLAQUE (Bold Leaders, Achieving Quality, Unity and Excellence) was developed. The program partnered 15 area middle school children with a Gator football player and a community leader. The goal is to affect change in the lives of at-risk black youth.

In the spring of 2005 and 2006, Meyer worked closely with student-body leaders on campus on a community service initiative surrounding the annual Orange and Blue Spring Game. Student leaders sold Orange and Blue spirit bands prior to the Spring Game with proceeds benefiting the Children's Miracle Network. Fans that purchased the bands were then asked to assist members of the UF coaching staff and football team in the planting of more than 400 crape myrtle trees on Radio Road on campus.

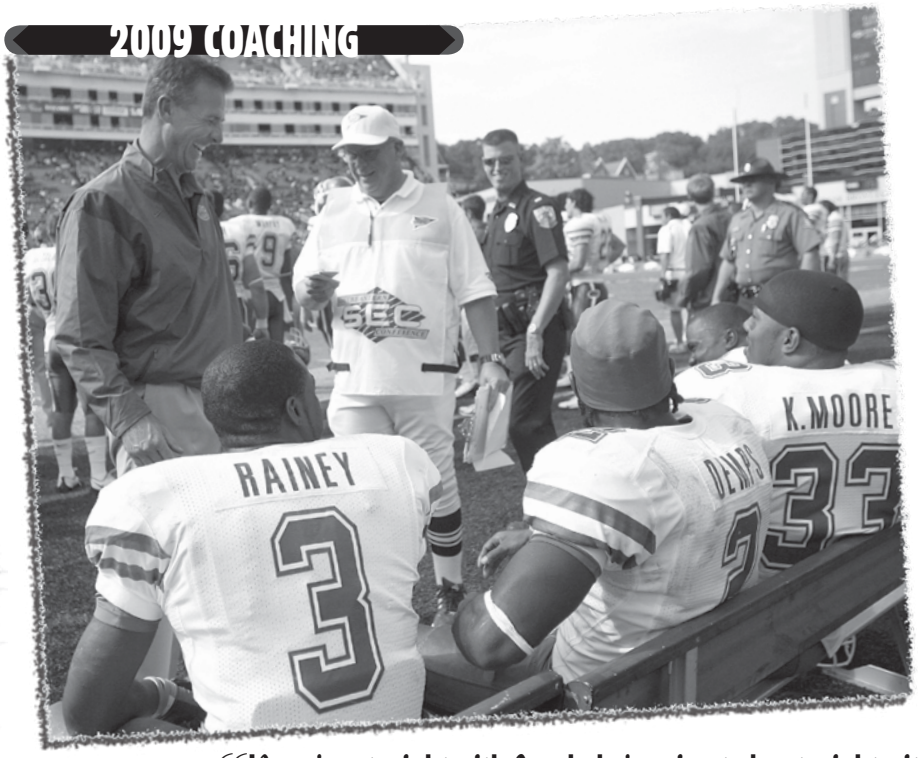
Meyer's goodwill efforts have extended beyond his football family. Inspired by Tim Tebow's missionary work, Meyer and his family spent time in the Dominican Republic on a missionary trip in June of 2008.

"Tim has had an impact on me. He has done a lot of things to open my eyes and that's one of them. To hear what he does on his time off, and we're sitting on a cruise or sitting on a beach. My kids live in a very nice home, so my wife and I both felt it was something that we wanted to do."

Florida's run to the 2006 national championship featured a school-record 13 wins, including the school's seventh Southeastern Conference Championship with a 38-28 win over Arkansas in the SEC Title tilt.

The magnitude of the national championship grows when one considers that the 2006 Florida schedule ranked as the toughest in the country by the NCAA, featuring six ranked teams and 11 teams that played in bowl games – the top total in the nation. Meyer was named the National Coach of the Year by the All-American Football Foundation at the conclusion of the season.

Coach Meyer is the only coach in school history to open his career with four-straight wins over Tennessee and Florida State.



Meyer's first year at Florida produced a nine-win season and January Bowl game victory, the Gators' first since 2001. Not only did Florida defeat three of its biggest rivals (Tennessee, Georgia and Florida State), the Gators never trailed in each of those games – a first in program history. Florida's final ranking of No. 12 in the Associated Press Poll was also its highest season-ending ranking since 2001.

"If you're straight with Coach, he's going to be straight with you. That's one of the best things about him. He's a guy who wants to know about you, talk to you, help you out."

— Vernell Brown, former UF cornerback

Meyer became the first coach in UF history to defeat four ranked opponents in his initial season at Florida and his nine wins tied a school record for most wins by a first-year coach in Gainesville.

Meyer's 2005 team continued to follow his blueprint for success. Take care of the ball, control the clock, win the field position battle and put the ball in the hands of the best players. Florida ranked third nationally in turnover margin at +18, just one shy of the school record set in 2000, and its average time of possession was 32:37, second-best in the SEC and best in UF records dating back to 1986. UF's average starting field position was also tops in the league, thanks in large part to a punt return unit that allowed just 3.3 yards per return – the best in school history and second nationally. For the fifth-straight season under Meyer, a wide receiver ranked among the top 20 nationally in catches per game – this time Chad Jackson tied a school record with 88 receptions, sixth-best in the nation and tied for fourth-best all-time in the SEC.

"Urban Meyer represents the qualities that we were looking for in our head coach," Florida Athletics Director Jeremy Foley said. "He is an innovator of the game with proven success as a head coach. He has shown the ability to attract recruits and is a tremendous teacher. Urban's accomplishments speak for themselves. He is a man of high values and principles and we welcome him and his family to the University of Florida family."

"He came at me and told me the truth, the straight truth and nothing but the truth. He continues to do that. At first you say he's probably just telling me this, telling me that, but once you get here it's not like he changes and tells you now it's this. He's been telling me the same thing since Day 1."

— Will Hill, UF safety

UF has started a true freshman on opening day in all four seasons under Coach Meyer.

"I am certainly excited about the opportunity to be the head coach at the University of Florida," said Meyer. "There were a lot of factors that went into this decision that our entire family had to consider. The opportunity to compete at the highest level at one of the nation's most-respected academic institutions is something that was attractive for us. The passion of Gator fans is legendary in collegiate athletics and I am eager to be a part of that environment.

"The quality of recruits within the state of Florida and the Southeast Region offers a tremendous recruiting base for us," Meyer continued. "The support from the University's administration is evident in their commitment to my family and I am looking forward to leading the Gator football program."

"Urban Meyer is an outstanding coach with a strong record, great leadership skills and a very promising future," said UF President J. Bernard Machen. "I am very happy to welcome him along with Shelley and the Meyer family to UF and Gainesville."

Meyer earned multiple National Coach of the Year honors in 2004 after leading Utah to a perfect 12-0 season, the school's first in 75 years. Meyer collected the Home Depot National Coach of the Year, the George Munger Award for the Collegiate Coach of the Year presented by the Maxwell Club and the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year (Named by the Football Writers Association of America). He also was named National Coach of the Year by Pro Football Weekly and earned the Woody Hayes Trophy Award and the Victor Award.

With its post-season bid to the Fiesta Bowl, Utah made history by becoming the first school from a non-Bowl Championship Series conference to earn a berth in a BCS Bowl. Utah finished as the outright 2004 Mountain West Conference champion to become the only back-to-back outright winners in the league's history.

Under his direction, the Utes ranked in the top-five nationally in six statistical categories. Utah ranked third nationally in scoring (45.3), total offense (499.7), net punting (40.8), turnover margin (+1.25) and passing efficiency (173.4), and was ranked fifth nationally in kick returns (26.2). The Utes were the only school in the nation to have their rushing offense (236.1, 13th) and passing offense (263.7, 19th) rank in the top 20 nationally.

Coach Meyer is 25-2 (.926) at The Swamp and overall Coach Meyer is 47-4 (.922) at home as a head coach.

Utah led the MWC in 11 categories, including scoring offense, total offense, pass efficiency offense, pass efficiency defense, turnover margin, kick returns and third-down conversions (52.3). The Utes were the MWC runner-up in rushing

Florida Football

1 Take back The Swamp

- Coach Meyer began his Florida career with a 16-0 record in The Swamp and is 47-4 (.922) at home as a head coach. Through 27 games under Meyer at home, Florida is 25-2 (.926).

2 Win rivalry games

- After the 59-20 victory over Tennessee on Sept. 15, 2007, the Gators had defeated UT, Georgia and Florida State eight-consecutive times, the longest stretch in school history. Meyer is the first coach in school history to defeat Tennessee in each of his first four seasons and he is also the only coach at UF to begin his career with four-straight wins over Florida State.
- The 49-10 victory over Georgia on Nov. 1, 2008 in Jacksonville was the worst defeat for the Bulldogs under Mark Richt and improved Meyer to 3-1 against UGA.
- The 45-15 win at Florida State on Nov. 29, 2008 improved Meyer to 4-0 versus the Seminoles and represented the most points and largest margin of victory for UF at Doak Campbell Stadium.
- Meyer now has a 12-1 (.923) record against the Gators' rivals (Tennessee, Georgia, Miami (Fla.) and Florida State.

3 Connect with the fans, the student body and the Community

- Initiated the Gator Walk, during which players enter the stadium through a tunnel of enthusiastic and vibrant Gator fans and colors two hours prior to kickoff.
- Began the tradition of players singing the school song to the student section at the conclusion of home games.
- Held a number of contests for the student body prior to the 2008 Spring Game, including the fastest fan on campus, which was televised live by ESPN.
- Coach Meyer has worked with local community leaders to establish a mentoring program with disadvantaged youth and members of the football team.

4 Embrace the tradition of Florida football

- Has invited several former players, including 1996 national championship team captain James Bates, to visit and speak with the team. Other former players have included Alex Brown, Danny Wuerffel, Errict Rhett, Jack Youngblood, Emmitt Smith, Lawrence Wright, Donnie Young, Trace Armstrong, Terry Jackson and Travis McGriff.
- Required all players to learn the school song, so that they may sing it to the student section after each home game.
- Welcomed back former Gator captains and their families for a special Captains' Legacy Weekend, highlighted by a private dinner for the captains with the current team the night before the Homecoming Game.

"There's a genuineness about Urban and a passion. As a player, you can sense whether it's real or contrived. We've all seen that Urban is real, that he's the man for this job."

— Jack Youngblood, former Gator defensive end and NFL Hall of Famer offense, passing defense (203.3), scoring defense (19.5), total defense (343.2), punt returns (10.9) and sacks against (18).

Meyer completed his Utah coaching career riding a 16-game winning streak, the second-longest in the nation behind only Southern California (21). The Utes did not trail at halftime of any 2004 game and their closest margin of victory was 14, a 49-35 win over Air Force on Sept. 25.

Meyer's mark has been made on the NFL Draft as well, tutoring the No. 1 pick in the 2005 Draft. Quarterback Alex Smith, the first-round draft pick by the San Francisco 49ers that April, is one of 62 former Meyer players who have signed contracts with NFL teams.

Meyer was named the 2003 National Coach of the Year by The Sporting News after leading the Utes to a 10-2 record, their first outright conference championship since 1957, a bowl victory and a final national ranking of No. 21. He became the first coach from the MWC and just the second coach from a non-BCS program to receive the coveted TSN award. Meyer was also voted the MWC Coach of the Year, becoming Utah's first conference coach of the year selection since 1978. He became the only coach in the school's 111-year football history to win a conference title in his first year.

UF's 44 wins under Coach Meyer are tied for the third-best total in the nation during the past four years.

Ironically, Utah's 2003 wins came against one of the toughest schedules in school history. Two were against Pac-10 foes Oregon and California, and the Ducks were ranked No. 19 when Utah scored a 17-13 upset. The Utes also knocked off perennial league powers Colorado State, Air Force and Brigham Young. It was the first Ute sweep of that trio in 10 years and the first-

6 Emphasize Special Teams

- The Gators have blocked 26 kicks under Urban Meyer, including a school-record nine in 2008.

- Under Urban Meyer, UF has been perfect on executing fake punts (7-for-7).

7 Develop leaders on and off the field

Coach Meyer has tutored four NFL first-round draft picks in the last three years.

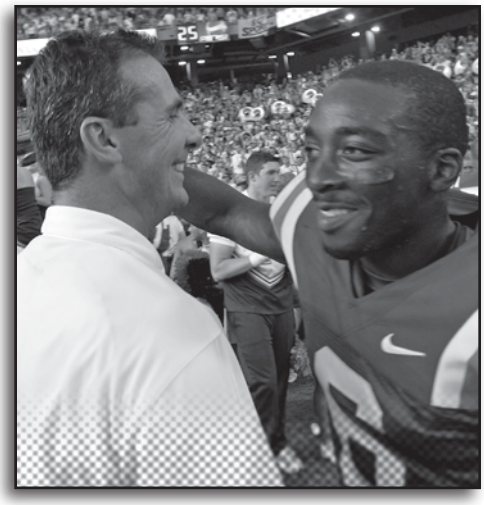
ever road sweep against them. Meyer's Utes capped the season with a 17-0 victory over Conference USA champion Southern Mississippi at the AXA Liberty Bowl.

In 2003, Utah won five more games than the previous year, when it was 5-6, and matched BCS national champion LSU as the fifth-most improved team in the nation. Meyer's explosive spread offense and one of the nation's best defenses brought Utah local and national attention. The 2003 Utes shattered their previous home attendance record by averaging 41,478 fans. The largest crowd ever to attend a Utah athletic event (46,768) and a national ESPN television audience watched the Utes beat California, 31-24, in Rice-Eccles Stadium.

Known as a defensive power, Utah's reputation on that side of the ball held true while the offense simply took off using Meyer's system. Utah shut out its last two opponents, Brigham Young and Southern Miss, and finished No. 19 in the nation in scoring defense (19.1 points per game). On the other side of the line, Utah went from last in scoring offense in 2002 to third in the league by averaging 28.7 points per game in '03. A similar improvement (seventh to fourth) was made in total offense. Red zone scoring, a Meyer point of emphasis, rose 11 percentage points (from 68 percent to 79 percent), with 61 percent of those scores coming on touchdowns (versus 49 percent in 2002).



Utah's special teams, under Meyer's direct supervision, also improved dramatically from past years. The Utes led the nation in kick return average (28.2 yards per return) and ranked second in the league in kickoff coverage (16.4 yards per opponent return) in 2003.

"I went down there (to Gainesville), and it was good for me. The offense he runs is very ... I won't say it's a pro-style offense, but it's an open offense that has a lot of pro elements to it. From what I know about Urban, he runs a program similar to the way we run our program, so we talked about lots of things relative to technical football, Xs and Os, how to deal with different stuff that's common (to both pro and college football). Probably a lot of things I believe in have been reinforced, because I respect (Meyer). It's great to get that perspective (from Meyer)."

Meyer began his head coaching career at Bowling Green in 2001, where he engineered the top turnaround in NCAA Division I-A football, showing a six-win improvement from the previous season. The Falcons rebounded from a 2-9 record to post their first winning season since 1994 with an 8-3 finish. For his efforts, he was named the 2001 Mid-American Conference Coach of the Year. A year later, he guided BGSU to a 9-3 record and its highest national ranking in school history (No. 16 ESPN/USA Today and No. 20 Associated Press). Bowling Green spent five weeks in the national polls and finished third in the nation in scoring offense, averaging 40.8 points per game.

"After every NFL visit, all I could do is just text Coach (Urban Meyer) and tell him thank you for everything. I feel like I owed him the world. We had probably the best relationship I could have as far as player-coach relationship with those guys. I owe the University of Florida and The Gator Nation more than I can ever describe. The coaches, I thank them. A lot of my success and a lot things that have come before have helped with moving me and helping me grow as a person."

— Percy Harvin, former UF wide receiver and current Minnesota Viking

The Falcons, who became the highest scoring team in MAC history, also finished ninth in the nation in total offense (448.9 ypg) and 11th in rushing offense (219.1 ypg) in 2002. They were the only team in the nation to average at least 215 yards rushing and 215 yards passing per game. BGSU also led the nation in red zone production, scoring on 61-of-63 trips (.968) inside the 20-yard line, including 52 touchdowns.

His teams fared well defensively, too. In 2001, BGSU ranked first in the MAC in scoring defense (19.5 ppg), rushing defense (86.3 ypg) and total defense (319.5 ypg). Bowling Green led the MAC in turnover margin both years under Meyer.

Meyer's 17-6 record at Bowling Green included a 5-0 mark against BCS teams and two wins over ranked opponents. After his first of two wins over Missouri, Meyer was named ESPN.com National Coach of the Week in 2001.

Meyer apprenticed at Ohio State (1986-87), Illinois State (1988-89), Colorado State (1990-95) and Notre Dame (1996-2000) before getting the head job at Bowling Green. The Ashtabula, Ohio, native learned the coaching trade from the likes of Sonny Lubick, Lou Holtz, Earle Bruce and Bob Davie.

"Coach Meyer is different than a lot of coaches. You can tell he actually cares about the little things in a person. He is a good guy to talk to."

— Phil Trautwein, former UF offensive lineman

The 1999 season saw Meyer's receiving corps break the Irish single-season record for pass receptions with 192 and total receiving yards with 2,858. During 1998, Meyer coached split end Malcolm Johnson, who ended his career with 110 receptions, the seventh-most in school history.

In 1997, Meyer coached Johnson and fellow receiver Bobby Brown as they became the first Irish pair of players to record 40 or more receptions individually in a season as Brown had 45 receptions and Johnson had 42. In addition, the Notre Dame receivers helped set a then single-season school record with 190 receptions.

"He has changed a lot of people's lives. He turned around people that could have gone who-knows-where to probably going to the NFL. He has made everybody a better person."

— Steve Rissler, former UF center

Meyer coached a youthful Irish receiving corps in 1996 and helped integrate those players with veteran quarterback Ron Powlus to contribute to a Notre Dame offense that produced the third-highest figures for total offense and scoring in Irish history.

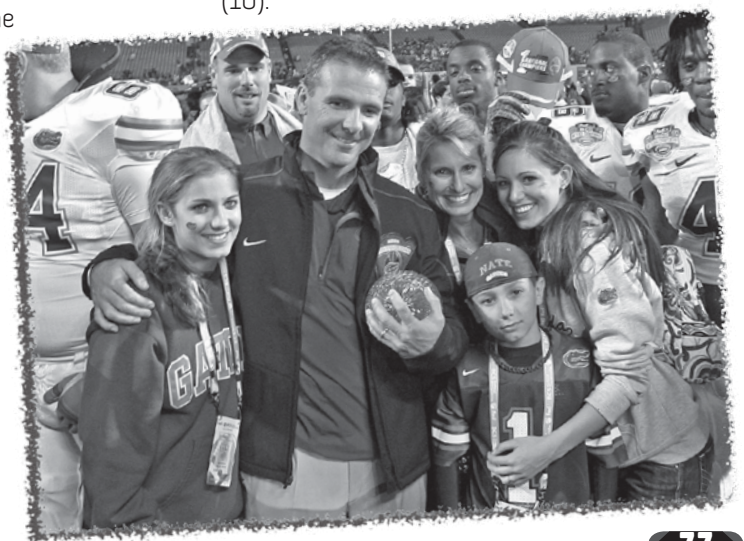
Prior to going to Notre Dame, Meyer had served as wide receiver coach for six years at Colorado State. He helped the Rams to the 1994 Western Athletic Conference title and to Holiday Bowl appearances following both the 1994 (10-2) and 1995 seasons (8-4).

In 1992, he coached wide receiver Greg Primus, an All-WAC pick who finished as Colorado State's all-time leading receiver and ended up with 192 career catches for 3,200 yards (then 10th on the NCAA's all-time yardage list). He also helped the Rams to the Freedom Bowl title following the 1990 season.

Meyer spent the previous two seasons at Illinois State, coaching quarterbacks and receivers in 1989 and outside linebackers in 1988. He worked as receivers coach at Ohio State in 1987 and helped the Buckeyes to a Cotton Bowl win following the 1986 campaign, when he coached tight ends.

A 13th-round pick in the Major League Baseball Amateur Draft in 1982, he played two years in the Atlanta Braves' organization. He played as a defensive back at the University of Cincinnati before earning his degree in psychology in 1986. He went on to earn a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio State in 1988.

Born July 10, 1964, Meyer and his wife Shelley are the parents of two daughters, Nicole (18) and Gigi (16), and a son, Nathan (10).



A 24-year veteran of the coaching ranks, Steve Addazio is in his fifth season at the University of Florida, where he takes over as offensive coordinator and continues to instruct the offensive line. In more than two decades on the sidelines, Addazio has coached in nine bowl games and been on the coaching staff of five conference champions, including the 2006 and 2008 Florida staff that claimed the BCS National Championship.

Steve ADDAZIO

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/ OFFENSIVE LINE

"Even if I think I do something exactly right, Coach Addazio can still show me how I can do it better. I'm glad he's always on me like that because that gets me better. He wants perfection in everything."

— UF offensive lineman Maurkice Pouncey

Last season, Addazio coached one of the most prolific offense lines in UF history. The Gators rushed for 3,236 yards, averaging 5.9 yards per carry. The offensive line paved the way for an offense that passed for 33 touchdowns and rushed for a school-record 42 touchdowns. The Gators' 231.1 rushing yards per game in 2008 ranked first in the SEC by a margin of more than 44 yards per game and marked the team's highest output since 1989 (244.8). The 2008 linemen allowed just 16 sacks over the course of the season, the third-lowest total at UF since 1996. From 2007-08, the Gators' offensive line gave up one sack per 23.8 pass attempts.

In 2007, Addazio mentored an offensive line that allowed only 13 sacks on the year and helped the offense to run in 39 touchdowns. The Gators' 13-sack allotment was an improvement over the 23 they allowed in 2006, while they also increased from 4.7 yards per carry in 2006 to 5.3 per attempt in 2007.

Addazio came to Gainesville from Indiana, where he served as offensive line coach for three seasons and offensive coordinator for one. Prior to that stint, he coached the offensive line and special teams at Notre Dame for three years. Before joining the Fighting Irish, Addazio was a member of a Syracuse staff that led the Orange to three-straight Big East titles and appeared in four bowl games over a four-year span from 1995-98.

Before entering into Division I college coaching, Addazio made a name as one of the nation's top high school coaches at Cheshire High School in Cheshire, Conn. In his seven years on the job, he won three-consecutive state titles and had a 34-game win streak (which was the second-longest in the nation at the time). He also headed two nationally-ranked teams and placed more than 20 student-athletes in college programs. His coaching career began at Western Connecticut State in 1985, where he served as offensive line and recruiting coordinator for three seasons.

A four-year starter at Central Connecticut State from 1978-81, Addazio earned tryouts with the NFL's New England Patriots, USFL's Jacksonville Bulls and CFL's Ottawa Roughriders. He and his wife, the former Kathy Donoghue, are the parents of three children, Nicole (22), Jessica (19) and Louie (16).

Vance Bedford possesses 16 years of collegiate coaching experience and six years coaching in the National Football League. Throughout his coaching career, he spent a total of five seasons coaching the secondary at the University of Michigan, his most recent being in 2007. Before returning to Ann Arbor, he was the defensive coordinator at Oklahoma State for two seasons.

Vance BEDFORD

CORNERBACKS

"Coach Bedford lets you play the way you're comfortable with playing. He'll teach different techniques and combinations so we develop the skills we need to be comfortable and anticipate and react better."

— UF cornerback Joe Haden

Last season, Bedford helped transform a group of young Gator cornerbacks into one of the best in the country. Florida's pass defense ranked as one of the worst in the country in 2007, finishing 98th in pass yardage defense and 71st in pass efficiency defense. The turnaround was led by Bedford, who stepped in during the spring of 2008 to lead a secondary that ranked third in pass efficiency defense and 20th in pass yardage defense. The group also tied the school record and led the nation with 26 interceptions on the season, returning five for a touchdown, tied for best in the country.

Bedford began his NFL coaching career as the defensive backs' coach for the Chicago Bears in 1999. He remained with the Bears until 2004, and during that time his secondary returned seven interceptions for touchdowns during a four-year stretch, equaling the team's total from the previous nine seasons combined. While with Chicago, Bedford developed three young talents in Mike Brown, Charles Tillman and Nathan Vasher. Brown earned first-team All-Rookie honors from Pro Football Weekly in 2000, while Tillman led NFL rookies in 2003 with four interceptions. In 2004, Vasher led the team with five interceptions, which tied for eighth overall in the NFL.

His first stint as the Michigan's secondary coach was from 1995-98. Michigan led the nation in pass defense in 1997 and ranked 20th in 1996. The Wolverines' 1997 national championship secondary set an NCAA record allowing just 8.8 yards per completion and finished fifth nationally by allowing just 133.8 passing yards per contest. His secondary in 1997 led the Big Ten and finished third nationally with 22 interceptions, and Charles Woodson became the only defensive player to ever win the Heisman Trophy.

Prior to working at Michigan, he spent two seasons at Oklahoma State University in 1993 and 1994 and six seasons at Colorado State from 1987-92 as the defensive backs coach. His

With 16 years of collegiate coaching experience, including trips to the Insight Bowl, Capital One Bowl and BCS National Championship, Kenny Carter will begin his second season with the Florida Gators. He has mentored several NFL draft picks, including wide receiver Bryant Johnson, who was selected in the first round by the Arizona Cardinals in 2003.

Kenny CARTER

RUNNING BACKS

In his first season with the Gators, Carter led a running backs group that amassed over 1,800 yards on the ground with 16 touchdowns. Under Carter's tutelage, Jeff Demps and Chris Rainey combined to rush for over 1,200 yards in their respective freshman campaigns.

Florida led the SEC in rushing offense last season, averaging 231.1 yards per game. The average was the highest in school history since 1989, when the Gators averaged 244.8 yards/game. The Gators also posted a school-record 42 rushing touchdowns in 2008.

Before coming to coach with the Gators, Carter served as the running backs coach and recruiting coordinator at Vanderbilt from 2004-2007. During that time, he mentored many talented running backs. His 2007 running back corps of Cassen Jackson-Garrison, Jared Hawkins and Jeff Jennings combined for 1,207 yards.

Carter also spent three seasons, from 2001-03, serving as the wide receivers coach under legendary coach Joe Paterno. While at Penn State, Carter developed a first-team All-Big Ten pick in 2002 in wide receiver Bryant Johnson.

Prior to his post with the Nittany Lions, he spent a season leading the running backs at Pittsburgh. It was there where he mentored Kevan Barlow, Nick Goings and Lousaka Polite.

Carter spend one season in Baton Rouge coaching the outside linebackers and spent five seasons at his alma mater, The Citadel. Carter was a four-year letterman at linebacker for the Bulldogs from 1986-89.

"Kenny does incredible work developing talented guys into meaningful contributors in a hurry. The job he did with our backs last year, having a couple of freshmen put up big numbers for us, shows exactly why we brought him here."

—UF head coach Urban Meyer

Billy Gonzales is in his fifth season as wide receivers coach at the University of Florida, and his 15th campaign roaming the collegiate sidelines. He has been a member of Urban Meyer-led coaching staffs since his appointment as Bowling Green's wide receivers coach in 2001.

Billy GONZALES

RECRUITING COORDINATOR/ WIDE RECEIVERS

"Coach Gonzales was like a father to me for the last two years of my career. He's the reason I have the opportunity to play professional football, but more importantly, he's the reason I graduated from the University of Florida."

- Dallas Baker, former Florida wide receiver and NFL Draft selection

Under Gonzales' instruction, UF players have caught 114 touchdowns, tying for the highest total in the Southeastern Conference and 12th nationally since 2005. The Florida receiving unit has also improved each year in yards per catch from 11.3 in 2005, 13.0 in 2006, 13.9 in 2007 and 14.2 in 2008.

Last season, UF had four players with five or more receiving touchdowns while no other team in the SEC had more than two players with five touchdown catches. The 2008 Gators wide receiving corps totaled 27 receiving touchdowns, six more than any other group of receivers in the SEC. The group amassed 2,241 yards on the season, third-best in the SEC. In addition, wide-out Percy Harvin led the nation in yards per carry (9.4) among all qualifying players. Under Gonzales, Harvin recorded the three best rushing seasons by a Florida wide receiver in school history, making him the all-time UF leader in that category with 1,852 yards.

In 2007, Gonzales helped Andre Caldwell become Florida's all-time leader in career receptions. Caldwell finished his career with 185 catches for 2,349 yards and 16 touchdowns. Caldwell's 185 catches rank as the 12th-highest total in SEC history. The 2007 season also marked the third time in school history UF had four different players with 100-yard receiving games, adding Caldwell, Percy Harvin, Riley Cooper and Cornelius Ingram to the record.

Gonzales directed a dynamic Gator receiving corps that posted 201 catches, 2,713 yards and 25 touchdowns in 2006, while also running for 676 yards and five touchdowns on 80 carries for an average of 8.5 yards per attempt. Gonzales guided Harvin to 34 receptions and 41 carries for a combined 855 yards of offense and five touchdowns en route to SEC Freshman of the Year honors in 2006, while helping Dallas Baker turn in a 60-catch, 10-touchdown campaign that led to first-team All-SEC accolades and a selection by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the NFL Draft.

In 2005, his first season in Gainesville, Gonzales tutored Chad Jackson during a year in which he matched the UF single-season reception record with 88 catches, a total that led the SEC, ranked sixth nationally and stood as the fourth-best single-season output in conference history. Jackson and Baker finished first and seventh in the conference in receptions per game, respectively, with averages of 7.3 and 4.3, making Florida one of just two schools to rank among the SEC's top-10.

Gonzales worked with an explosive Utah offense during his two-year tenure with the Utes, including a 2004 unit that ranked third nationally with 499.8 yards per game and 19th in the country with an average of 263.7 receiving yards per contest. Under his guidance, Paris Warren and Steve Savoy both earned All-Mountain West Conference recognition during the squad's perfect 2004 campaign that concluded with a Fiesta Bowl championship. Warren ranked 17th nationally with a Utah single-season record 80 receptions, while he and Savoy teamed up for 23 touchdowns and an average of 13.9 yards per grab. Four different Utes totaled more than 350 receiving yards during that season, led by Warren's 1,076, while the unit combined to score 39 touchdowns. Warren concluded the year in style, setting a Fiesta Bowl record with 15 catches, gaining 198 yards and scoring twice in the win over Pittsburgh.

Pulling double duty at Utah, Gonzales also coordinated the Utes' special teams, guiding the unit to the nation's top ranking in kick return average (28.2) in 2003. With Gonzales at the helm, the Utah special teams also garnered top-five national rankings in net punting and kick return average in 2004, earning punter Matt Kovacevich honorable mention All-MWC honors.

While serving as wide receivers coach at Bowling Green from 2001-02, and doubling as co-recruiting coordinator during the second year, Gonzales assisted with one of the nation's most potent offenses. In 2002, the Falcons scored 48.0 points per game, the third-best total in the nation, and piled up 448.9 yards per game, good for ninth in the country. He developed wide receiver Robert Redd, who ranked 10th nationally in receptions per game during the 2002 campaign, into a two-time first-team All-Mid-American Conference pick. Gonzales broke into Division I coaching at Kent State, where he developed Eugene Baker into the nation's leader in receptions as a junior in 1997.

A four-year letterwinner and two-year starter as a wide receiver at Colorado State, Gonzales is one of only two players in CSU history to lead the team in punt return average in three-consecutive seasons. Playing under Meyer, who served as his position coach with the Rams from 1990-93, he was a return specialist on the 1990 Freedom Bowl champions. Gonzales and his wife, the former Julie Hall, live in Gainesville with their children Cole, 6, and Caylynn, 4.

A 33-year veteran of college coaching, including stints at Colorado, Notre Dame, Ohio State and Wisconsin, Chuck Heater is now in his fifth year at the University of Florida, where he serves as the Assistant Defensive Coordinator/ Safeties coach. He has coached in 22 bowl games during his career, including six New Year's Day bowls and the 2007 and 2009 BCS National Championship Games, where Florida captured two national titles.

Chuck HEATER

ASSISTANT DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR/ SAFETIES

"Coach Heater gets after us off the field and on the field. He brings the things out of us that we possibly don't want to let come out—plays we're capable of making, the cuts, the turns, the flips, everything we're capable of doing. If he sees that he can get it out of us, he's going to stay on us and make us be the best players we can be."

— UF cornerback Markihe Anderson

Last season, Heater helped turn around a defensive secondary that was one of the nation's worst in 2007 to rank among the best in 2008. The Gators ranked third in pass efficiency defense after their latest national championship run (up from 71st in 2007) and finished 20th in pass yardage defense (up from 98th). In addition, sophomore safety Ahmad Black tied for the national lead with seven interceptions and led a secondary that tied the school record and led the country with 26 interceptions.

Three underclassmen safeties earned postseason honors in 2008 under Heater's tutelage, including Black, who was named second-team All-SEC by the coaches and an honorable mention All-American by Sports Illustrated. Black was also a second-team All-Sophomore selection by College Football News, while sophomore Major Wright earned honorable mention recognition for the All-Sophomore team. Freshman Will Hill was selected to the SEC All-Freshman team and was named a second-team All-Freshman performer by College Football News.

In his first two years on the job at UF, Heater helped develop the Gator secondary into one of the most feared units in the nation. UF posted a 98.3 pass defense efficiency rating in 2006, the nation's fourth-highest, while surrendering only 10 touchdown passes on the year to tie for eighth-fewest in the country. The secondary also played a pivotal role on a Florida defense that allowed just 13.5 points per game in 2006, the sixth-lowest total in Division I. In 2005, the Gators allowed opponents to complete just 52.3 percent of their passes, a figure that ranked in the nation's top-20.

Under Heater's direction, the Florida secondary led the SEC in interceptions in both 2005 and 2006, including a total of 21 in 2006 that tied for the fourth-best single-season output in school history at that time. He oversaw the development of cornerback Ryan Smith into a second-team All-American, a first-team All-SEC selection and a sixth-round NFL Draft choice after just one season in the program. Smith's eight interceptions in 2006 ranked seventh in the nation and was the second-highest in school history. In 2005, Dee Webb earned All-SEC accolades after leading the league in pass deflections.

In his role as the Gators' recruiting coordinator, Heater was also the architect of consecutive signing classes that were recognized as being among the nation's best, and earned the No. 1 ranking from several outlets.

Heater served as cornerbacks coach and recruiting coordinator at Utah during the 2004 campaign, helping the Utes finish an undefeated season with a Fiesta Bowl championship. Prior to that post, he worked for five years at Washington in a variety of roles, including cornerbacks coach, running backs coach and recruiting coordinator. Heater helped UW sign three recruiting classes rated in the nation's top 15, while three of his classes with the Huskies produced a Freshman All-American.

From 1993-98, Heater served on the coaching staff at Colorado, originally joining the staff as director of football operations and recruiting coordinator before taking over the defensive backs and then progressing on to the tight ends. He spent the three years prior to his time in Boulder as the secondary coach at Notre Dame, where he earned his first national championship ring while helping guide the 12-0 Fighting Irish team in 1988. Heater also spent three years coaching the defensive backs at both Ohio State and Wisconsin.

A three-year letterwinner at Michigan as a running back, Heater finished his career as the Wolverines fifth-leading career rusher with 1,981 yards. He earned second-team All-Big 10 honors as a junior and honorable mention accolades as a senior, while receiving the school's Fielding Yost Award, given to the senior who demonstrates the highest level of academic and athletic excellence, in 1975. During his tenure at Michigan, the Wolverines went 41-3-1 and won or shared the Big Ten title every season. Heater was a 10th-round draft pick by the New Orleans Saints in 1975. He and his wife, the former Deborah Dariano, are the parents of a daughter, Emily, and two sons, Andy and Adam.

Scot Loeffler joins the University of Florida coaching staff after one year with the Detroit Lions. Prior to his year in the NFL, Loeffler spent six seasons (2002-07) as the University of Michigan's quarterbacks coach. During his tenure, Wolverine quarterbacks threw for 142 touchdowns compared to just 44 interceptions and had more than 20 passing touchdowns each season.

Scot Loeffler

QUARTERBACKS

"Coach Loeffler is awesome. He brings a lot to the table. He knows about pro-style quarterbacks, he knows the option. He just brings so much to the table and is teaching us so much and making us better quarterbacks all around. It's really cool knowing he has those quarterbacks in his background. He obviously knows what he's talking about and that's a good background. With that record, I'm going to listen to him."

— UF quarterback John Brantley

Loeffler spent the 2008 season coaching the quarterbacks for the Detroit Lions. Previously, he held the same position for the Michigan Wolverines for six seasons. Loeffler was instrumental in developing Chad Henne, who became the school's career leader in passing yards (9,715), touchdowns (87), completions (828) and attempts (1,387). As a true freshman in 2004, Henne threw a school-record-tying 25 touchdown passes and became the first quarterback in Wolverine history to throw 20 or more touchdown passes in each of his first three seasons. He was also the first true freshman quarterback to lead his team to a Big Ten title and start a BCS bowl game. He was drafted in the second round of the 2008 NFL Draft by the Miami Dolphins.

In 2003, Loeffler helped develop John Navarre into the team's first All-Big Ten first-team quarterback since Brian Griese accomplished the feat during the Wovernines' 1997 national championship season. Navarre set seven season passing marks and six career records at Michigan under Loeffler's tutelage. Loeffler has seen the quarterbacks he coached at Michigan go on to play in 219 regular-season NFL games, including 196 starts. In addition, those players have garnered a combined four Super Bowl rings as pros.

Loeffler played quarterback for the Wolverines from 1993-96, and was a student assistant for the team for one season after a shoulder injury cut his playing career short. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Michigan in 1998. As a grad assistant, he helped coach Tom Brady and Griese. In 2000, he moved on to Central Michigan as the Chippewas' quarterbacks coach for two years. He returned to Michigan as the quarterbacks coach in 2002.

A native of Barberton, Ohio, Loeffler graduated from Michigan with a degree in history and

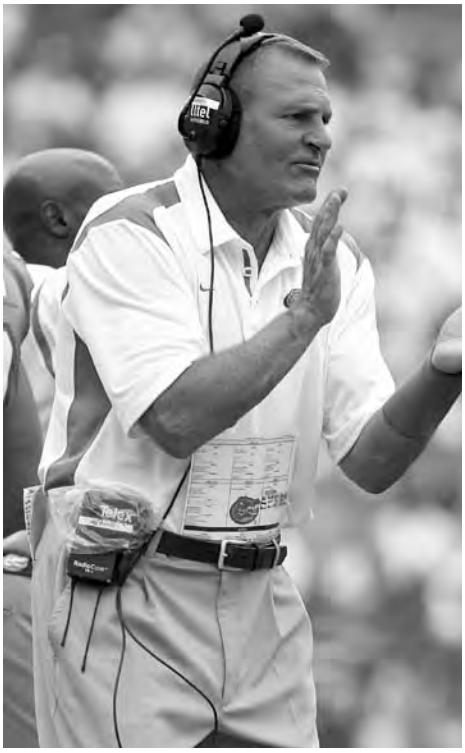
With 31 years of coaching experience, Dan McCarney enters his second year with the Florida Gators as Assistant Head Coach, Defense/Defensive Line. He was an instrumental part of transforming the 2008 Gator defense into one of the best in the nation.

Dan MCCARNEY

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH, DEFENSE/ DEFENSIVE LINE

"Coach McCarney is always there for us. That's the thing about him — no matter what, he's there. He's the reason that the defensive line plays they way we do. He coaches with a lot of passion, and that comes out in how we play on the field."

— UF defensive lineman Jermaine Cunningham



McCarney helped coach a defense that ranked fourth in the country in scoring defense in 2008, allowing just 12.9 points per game. Under McCarney's watch, the first-team defense did not allow a touchdown in five of its last eight games last season and only gave up five total during that stretch.

McCarney was key in the development of UF defensive lineman Carlos Dunlap, who led the SEC with nine and a half sacks in 2008. Dunlap and Jermaine Cunningham were named second-team All-SEC performers in 2008 as the Gators totaled 34 sacks after only having 15 in 2007.

In 2007, he led a University of South Florida defense that ranked third nationally with 8.69 tackles for loss per game and assisted in bringing the USF team to their highest BCS ranking in school history.

He became the longest tenured head coach in the Big 12 at the completion of the 2006 season, after coaching the Iowa State Cyclones from 1995-2006. During his tenure, he took the Cyclones to five bowl games and he led five of the 16 teams in the 116-year history of the ISU program that have won seven games or more.

In 2004, McCarney was named the Big 12 Coach of the Year, when the Cyclones were the Big 12 North Co-Champions. His 2000 squad was the first Iowa State team to win nine games in 94 years. In addition, the win over Pittsburgh in the Insight.com Bowl was ISU's first-ever bowl victory and the Cyclones' first bowl appearance since 1978.

He remains the longest-serving (141 games) and winningest Cyclone head coach (56 victories) in school history. During his 12th season as Iowa State head coach in 2006, only eight head coaches among 119 NCAA Division I-A programs had been at their current school longer than McCarney.

McCarney is responsible for the rebirth of the Iowa State defense as the unit ranked among the Big 12 Conference's leaders in total defense in 2001, 2002, 2004 and 2005. ISU's final 2004 total defense mark of 329.4 yards allowed per game was the school's best effort in nearly two decades.

Prior to his head coaching post at Iowa State, he served as defensive coordinator and defensive line coach at Wisconsin. In 1993, Wisconsin went 10-1-1, claimed its first Big 10 title in 31 years and scored a 21-16 win over UCLA in the Rose Bowl. During the same season, the Badgers ranked 19th nationally against the run (130.3 yards per game) and allowed just 16.3 points per game. The Badger defense intercepted an NCAA-best 23 passes and created 34 turnovers, including six against UCLA in the Rose Bowl.

McCarney began his coaching career at his alma mater, the University of Iowa, where he served as offensive line coach for two years and managed the defensive line for 11 seasons. During his tenure at Iowa, he coached the Hawkeyes in eight-consecutive bowl games, including the 1982 and 1986 Rose Bowls. While a player at Iowa, McCarney was a three-year letterman on the offensive line for Iowa beginning in 1972 and ending as captain in 1974.

Revered as one of the best defensive minds in college football, Charlie Strong is in his fourth stint on the University of Florida coaching staff and his second year in his current post as the Gators' Defensive Coordinator, Associate Head Coach/Linebackers. He has 26 years of collegiate coaching experience, two years as an intern on the professional level and was UF's choice to serve as interim head coach for the 2004 Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl.

Charlie STRONG

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR, ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH/ LINEBACKERS

"It would be a challenge to find someone more respected and well-liked in the college football world than Charlie Strong. He's passionate and hard working, but he takes the job of molding men very seriously. Charlie is the type of man who can walk into any situation and be well-liked, well-received and represent the University of Florida to the highest degree."

—UF head coach Urban Meyer

Last season, Strong's defense ranked in the top-20 nationally in 10 statistical categories, including a school-record tying 26 interceptions that also tied for the most in the country. UF's scoring defense showed the third-largest improvement from the 2007 season to the 2008 season, finishing fifth in the nation by allowing only 12.9 points per game. His most impressive work of the season came in the 2009 FedEx BCS National Championship Game against Oklahoma, where the Gators held the highest-scoring offense in the history of college football to just 14 points and 363 total yards in Florida's 24-14 win. It was the second such performance by one of Strong's defenses in the past three national championships, as the Gators dismantled Ohio State in the 2007 Tostitos BCS National Championship Game to capture the title.

For his work in 2008, Strong was named a finalist for the Broyles Award, given annually to the college football's top assistant. Strong also coached a group of linebackers that included consensus first-team All-American and repeat first-team All-SEC performer Brandon Spikes, who was a finalist for the 2008 Bronko Nagurski Award, given to the nation's top defensive player.

In his six years at UF as defensive coordinator, the Gators have intercepted 111 passes, the fourth-highest total in the nation and the most in the SEC during the last six seasons. In the past four seasons, UF has ranked first in the SEC and sixth in the nation in rushing defense, allowing only 93.8 yards per game.

Strong was named one of the nation's top-25 best recruiters by Rivals.com for his part in the 2007 signing class that was ranked No. 1 by most outlets. He was also a vital part in helping Florida lead the SEC in rushing defense for the second-straight season while surrendering only 103.3 yards per game, registering as the 10th-best nationally.

In 2007, he also helped develop Spikes into a consensus first-team All-SEC selection. It marked the first time since 1999 that a freshman or sophomore linebacker earned Coaches' First-Team All-SEC recognition. Spikes ranked third in the league in total tackles with 131 and was second in the SEC in average tackles per game with 10.1 Under Strong's leadership, Florida led the SEC in defensive players on the 2007 All-SEC Freshman Team with three, including linebacker A.J. Jones and defensive backs Joe Haden and Major Wright.

Currently in his seventh year as Florida's defensive coordinator, Strong helped guide the 2006 Gator defense that limited opponents to a league-best 72.5 rushing yards per game in 2006. That figure marked the second-lowest total in school history, and stood nearly 25 yards better than the next-best team in the SEC. The Gators' run defense ranked fifth nationally in 2006, while they rated sixth in the nation in total defense with an average of 255.4 yards per contest. Under Strong's watch, the Orange and Blue set a BCS record for fewest yards allowed in their national title bout with Ohio State, yielding only 82 yards to better the previous record by 72. Three members of the UF defense earned All-America recognition and six players received All-SEC honors in 2006.

One of the architects of the Gators' aggressive, attacking scheme, Strong's unit led the SEC and ranked ninth nationally by forcing 31 turnovers and paced the league with 114 points off of turnovers, while also finishing among the country's top-10 teams in total defense and run defense. UF also set a school record by amassing 337 yards on tackles for loss, while its 33 sacks were the team's most in six years. The Gators improved over their 2004 output in 14 statistical categories during the 2005 season.

Strong is the only defensive coordinator in the nation to hold Florida State under 50 yards rushing in consecutive contests over the last 10 years, as the Gators allowed only 34 yards in 2004 and 49 in 2005. He also coached the SEC's leading freshman tacklers in his first two seasons as defensive coordinator at UF, guiding Channing Crowder in 2003 and Brandon Siler in 2004. Brian WHITE

TIGHT ENDS

"Brian is a longtime friend and will be a great addition to our coaching staff. He will play a key role in our offensive game plan and our special teams' preparation. He is a relentless recruiter and has an understanding of our program's philosophy. He is very cerebral and will make a smooth transition into our program."

— UF head coach Urban Meyer

White spent the 2008 season as the special teams' coordinator and tight ends coach at Washington. He served as the offensive coordinator/tight ends' coach at Syracuse under head coach Greg Robinson from 2006-07. Prior to his time with the Orange, White served 11 years as running backs coach and offensive coordinator at the University of Wisconsin.

Under head coach Barry Alvarez, White helped lead the Badgers to nine bowl appearances, including Rose Bowl selections in 1999 and 2000. Wisconsin won Big Ten Conference championships in 1998 and 1999.

During the 2001 season, White led an offense that had two quarterbacks throw for over 1,000 yards each, had the nation's fifth leading rusher in Big Ten Freshman of the Year Anthony Davis and a wide receiver, Lee Evans, who set the Big Ten record for receiving yards in a season.

In White's first year as the offensive coordinator at Wisconsin in 1999, the Badgers set a school record and finished ninth in the nation in scoring at 35.6 points per game. The next season, first-round NFL draft choice Michael Bennett was the third-leading rusher in the country, including a school-record 258 yards in one half against Oregon. For eight-straight seasons, White had a running back rush for over 1,000 yards between 1995-2002.

Under White's tutelage, Heisman Trophy-winner Ron Dayne broke the NCAA record for career rushing yards (7,125) in addition to setting school records for rushing yards in a game (339), season (2,109) and career. He averaged 5.8 yards per carry during his four years as a Badger and scored a Big Ten record 71 career rushing touchdowns.

Mickey MAROTTI

DIRECTOR OF STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

"Once I met Coach Marotti, I knew this was the place I was coming because I saw that he would work me hard and we could compete for championships. I've developed so much as a player and as a person because of him. We work on football skills with him, of course, but he always teaches us about real-life skills, as well."

—UF defensive lineman William Green

Marotti serves on the board of directors of CSCC. He is certified by the National Academy of Speed and Explosion.

Entering his fifth year at UF, Marotti has already developed five All-Americans and three first-round NFL draft choices during his tenure.

Prior to his arrival in Gainesville, Marotti was responsible for the total development of sport-specific strength and conditioning programs for all 26 varsity sports at Notre Dame from 1998-2005. Before that stint, he coordinated the strength and conditioning program for 20 sports at Cincinnati, while also working in the areas of diet analysis and student-athlete injury rehabilitation.

First-Team All-America Honorees

Dale Van Sickel
END • 1928

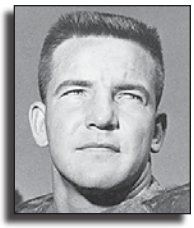
Florida's first All-American. A two-way offensive and defensive standout. Noted as one of college football's premier pass receivers. Played on the nation's highest scoring team (336 points in nine games). The late Van Sickel went on to become one of Hollywood's top stunt men for nearly five decades and was twice president of the Motion Picture Stunt Men's Association. Died as a result of complications from injuries in the 1960s.

Forrest "Fergie" Ferguson
END • 1941

Great two-way end who made as many big plays on defense as he did on offense. Star receiver during days of limited passing attacks, he set records which would stand from the early 1940s until the pro-style passing game of the 1960s, including most receptions (43), receiving yards (668), TD passes in a season (five in 1941), longest scoring reception (74 yards from Tommy Harrison vs. Miami in 1941). Injured in Normandy invasion in 1944, awarded DSC for Gallantry in Action, and died of his war wounds in 1954.

Charlie LaPradd
TACKLE • 1952

Rugged lineman who was an Army paratrooper prior to resuming his collegiate career. One of the most outstanding linemen in Florida history, he played offense and defense on the Gators' first bowl team, which won the 1953 Gator Bowl. Later went into coaching at FSU then began a career in athletic administration. Was president of St. John's River Community College from 1966-72. LaPradd passed away on Feb. 1, 2006.



John Barrow

Consensus All-American and SEC Lineman of the Year in 1956. Played in 1957 Senior Bowl game, plus North-South game. Went on to become an All-CFL lineman with Hamilton, playing 15 seasons. Retired and became general manager at Toronto and other CFL teams prior to going into business in Canada. His son, Greg, was a letterman Gator tackle in 1980.

Vel Heckman
TACKLE • 1958

Came out of Pennsylvania to become one of the finest defensive tackles in Gator history. Not unusually big, he made up for it with great quickness and nose for the football. Played in 1959 Senior Bowl game. Following graduation, he went into coaching and finished his career in that area as head football coach at Lakeview of Winter Garden. Still resides in Winter Garden, where he is in private business.

Larry Dupree

An explosive, quick and durable runner who was second on the all-time Florida rushing list with 1,725 yards in three seasons. Played in 1965 Coaches All-American game. Currently in private business in his hometown of MacClenny, Fla.

Former president of New York Times Regional Newspapers in Tampa.

Fergie entered the Army in 1942 as a second lieutenant and was severely wounded in the Normandy Invasion in 1944. He won the Distinguished Service Cross for his heroism under fire. He died of his war wounds 10 years later.

James W. Kynes Award

Presented annually to the offensive lineman who best exemplified the mental and physical toughness and "iron-man" determination Kynes exhibited as a Gator player and in his lifetime.

Kynes, Florida's first All-SEC offensive lineman and captain of the 1949 team, was the last Gator football player to play every minute in a game, something he accomplished several times during his career, including in his final game against Alabama. He went on to become the youngest Attorney General in the state of Florida's history at age 37 and was a business and civic leader in Tampa until his death of cancer at age 60 on Oct. 13, 1988.

Close friends Tom MacDonald and George Levy originated the Kynes Award in 1986. The first recipient was offensive tackle David Williams.

Ray Graves Award

Presented annually to the team's Most Valuable Player as selected by a vote of the entire squad. Head coach Steve Spurrier initiated the award in 1990 in tribute to Graves, who was head coach from 1960-69.

He compiled a 70-31-4 record at the Gator helm, then the record for most wins (70) in school history for a head coach. Graves led Florida to winning records in nine of his 10 seasons at the helm, including nine or more wins three times. Graves' teams also appeared in five bowl games, posting a 4-1 record. He coached Florida's first Heisman Trophy winner in Spurrier, who captured college football's most prestigious honor in 1966.

Dr. J. Bernard Machen

The University of Florida Board of Trustees unanimously elected Dr. James Bernard Machen as the university's 11th president on Oct. 8, 2003. Dr. Machen, who previously served as president of the University of Utah, assumed his new position on Jan. 5, 2004.

A native of Greenwood, Miss., Dr. Machen grew up in St. Louis. After attending Vanderbilt University for his undergraduate studies, he earned his doctor of dental surgery degree from Saint Louis University and his master of science in pediatric dentistry and doctorate in educational psychology from the University of Iowa. He is a diplomate of the American Board of Pediatric Dentistry and was president of the American Association of Dental Schools. He also served on the Board of Trustees of the 2002 Salt Lake Olympic Committee.

Prior to his tenure at Utah, Dr. Machen was the provost and vice president for academic affairs and dean of the School of Dentistry at the University of Michigan. He served as an assistant and an associate dean in the School of Dentistry at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He held faculty appointments as associate professor and professor at UNC-Chapel Hill.

From 1992 to 1995, Dr. Machen was a member of the National Academy of Science's Institute of Medicine Committee on Educating Dentists for the Future. He also has a past appointment as chief of the Department of Extension Services at the U.S. Army Institute of Dental Research.

Since coming to the University of Florida, Dr. Machen has shepherded the University through a period of rapid growth and increasing prestige. Today, UF has over 50,000 students, a research budget topping $561 million, and an endowment of about one billion. Dr. Machen has also undertaken several ambitious initiatives aimed at both improving UF and enhancing its contribution to the state and nation. These include efforts to create a more culturally diverse campus, enhance students' educational experience, promote statewide economic development, bring about better stewardship of natural resources and make the University more environmentally friendly.

In 2005, Dr. Machen introduced the First in Family Scholarship Program, designed to provide financial assistance for economically disadvantaged students who are the first in their families to attend college. The program attracted the attention of Florida Gov. Jeb Bush, who subsequently advocated a similar statewide program, the First Generation Scholarship Program.

To attract and retain the nation's best and brightest faculty, Dr. Machen created the Faculty Challenge with a goal of raising $150 million in private support for endowment to give faculty the tools they need to enhance classroom instruction and conduct world-class research. To date, the faculty challenge has raised more than $200 million.

The University also joined the Florida High Tech Corridor Council in 2005. This council is aimed at attracting new and emerging technology companies to Central and North Florida. UF's participation in the council is one of many ways that the University has sought to play a leading role in growing Florida's technology economy under Dr. Machen's tenure. Others include ramping up UF's patenting and licensing activities, with UF recently ranked seventh nationwide among both public and private universities in number of patents generated annually.

Dr. Machen's tenure also has been marked by environmental initiatives. In 2004, he created the University of Florida Water Institute, which provides a focal point for water-related research, education and public outreach programs. In 2005, he gave sustainability a higher profile when he announced a series of measures to reduce the University's impact on the environment. UF held its first Sustainability Day in late 2005, and in February 2006 the University named its first director of sustainability. UF also was named a Certified Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary, the first university to achieve this status and one of 607 such sanctuaries in the world.

He has academic interests in national health policy. Dr. Machen and his wife, Chris, are the parents of three children.

Jeremy N. Foley

Jeremy N. Foley, who has handled virtually every aspect of the University of Florida's $89 million athletic program during his athletic administrative career – which began with an internship in the Gator Ticket Office in 1976 – was named UF's Director of Athletics in March of 1992.

A man with great vision and experience, Foley, 56, brings a passionate top-to-bottom team approach to the top athletic post at the University of Florida. Foley's philosophy involves the continued building of a comprehensive athletic program, with the goal of having the overall UF program ranked as the top athletic program in the nation.

As chief financial officer for the University Athletic Association (UAA), Foley has spearheaded a number of capital improvement projects in the athletic department. The project lists includes two major expansions of the football stadium, a multipurpose athletic fieldhouse, new facilities for tennis, track & field, soccer, baseball, golf, softball and swimming. Foley also played a role in the academic advising center on the University of Florida campus, which serves UF students and Gator student-athletes and assisted in funding the renovation of the Stephen C. O'Connell Center. A project that enhanced the football experience for Gator student-athletes, staff and visitors – was completed in July of 2008 and received platinum certification from the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Green Building Ration System, the highest ranking available. It is the first building in Florida and the first athletic facility in the nation to achieve platinum status. Foley's recent project was the lacrosse facility – a 1,500 seat-stadium offering fans a great view of this fast-paced sport – to be complete prior to the enrollment of the first Gator lacrosse class in the fall of 2009.

Foley's commitment to the overall athletic program includes a plan of increased opportunities for women, as three women's sports have been added under his tenure – soccer, softball and, most recently, lacrosse.

Also, in an era when the NCAA estimates 90 percent of Division I schools are losing money on intercollegiate athletics, the University of Florida Athletic Association has contributed more than $51.4 million since 1990 to help fund University of Florida academic endeavors.

Florida has been equally successful on the field of play and in the classroom during Foley's administrative tenure. The Florida athletic program has ranked among the nation's top 10 for 26-straight years (1983-84, 2008-09) and among the top five for 13 of the last 20 years, according to national all-sport rankings.

UF became the first program in collegiate history to own both the men's basketball and football national titles in the same calendar year, after capturing crowns in 2006. The men's basketball team then became the first repeat champions in their sport in 15 years after cutting the nets down again in 2007.

In all, 13 Gator athletic teams have won national titles under Foley. In 2008-09, a total of 12 teams finished in the top 10 of their respective sports, including five top-five finishes.

Foley is the only athletic director in Division I history to supervise a program that has won multiple national titles in football (1996, 2006, 2008) and men's basketball (2006, 2007).

Foley was named the Street & Smith's SportsBusiness Journal National Athletic Director of the Year in June of 2006 and the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame awarded him the 2007 John L. Toner Award. The Toner Award is designed to honor and acknowledge outstanding athletics directors who have demonstrated superior administrative abilities especially in the area of college football.

In Southeastern Conference action, Florida picked up six league crowns in 2008-09 action, raising its total to 96 league titles since 1992, the top totals in the SEC over that time span.

UF's commitment in the classroom is equally impressive. Under Foley, UF student-athletes have been honored 72 times as Academic All-Americans, the fourth-highest among all Division I colleges since 1992. For the 2008-09 academic year, the University of Florida had 168 SEC Academic Honor Roll honorees, giving Florida a league-high 1,658 recipients in the last 10 seasons.

The Gator athletic coaching family, which Foley had a large part in assembling, has collected 60 SEC Coach-of-the-Year awards during the last 18 years.

Gator student athletes, coaches and administrators have also been a fixture in the community, taking part in a variety of community related endeavors.

Florida student athletes remained involved in the community and beyond. A total of 498 UF student athletes have participated in 3,183 hours of community service in 2008-09, partnering with 17 schools, four civic organizations and 24 non-profit organizations. Florida was honored with a White House commendation for volunteerism in 1994.

Foley also served on the NCAA Division I Management Council from 1997-2002.

Foley was named Honorary Alumnus of the University of Florida by the Florida Alumni Association Board of Directors in October of 2000.

Born in Washington, D.C., but calling New London, N.H., home, Foley received his undergraduate degree in 1974 from Hobart College in Geneva, N.Y., where he also coached and scouted for the tradition-rich lacrosse program following graduation. He went on to earn his Master's Degree in Sports Administration from Ohio University in 1976 and then joined the Gator athletic program as an intern in the ticket office. In 1995, the Ohio Graduate School presented Foley with the school's Distinguished Alumni Award. The Ohio University Alumni Association also awarded Foley with the Medal of Merit in September of 2008.

In 2008, the Hobart Alumni Association presented Foley with the Medal of Excellence, their highest honor, for outstanding achievements as Athletic Director at the University of Florida, which has brought honor and distinction to his alma mater.

The Holderness School, a small, private, college preparation school in Plymouth, New Hampshire presented Foley, class of 1970, with their 2007 Distinguished Alumni Award in November of 2007.

There is a continuing line of leadership in the Foley family, as his younger brother, James, commanded troops during Desert Storm and won two silver stars. In Foley's UAA office, an orange Gator sweatshirt which was worn by his brother at the battle of the Kuwait International Airport, is encased in glass.

An avid sports and Boston Red Sox fan, Foley ran the Boston Marathon in a 3:39.51 clip in April of 1995 and completed the course in 3:28.10 in 1998. A dog lover and proud owner of one Labrador retriever, he is involved with the Humane Society and makes numerous personal donations and public appearances with local charities.

Overall Athletic Success

The Gator soccer team extended its league title lead by claiming its ninth Southeastern Conference Championship in 2008. Florida is the first to post an undefeated league record since the SEC went to round-robin play in 2004.

- Florida won six regular-season SEC Championships in 2008-09 to raise its total to 44 since the 1999-00 academic year, the most by any conference school during the 10-year span. The Gators took the SEC crown in football, soccer, softball, women's swimming & diving, women's outdoor track & field and volleyball.
- The University of Florida swept the New York Times Regional Newspaper Group's Southeastern Conference All-Sports competition in 2008-09, taking the overall, men's and women's titles. It is the ninth sweep for the Gator athletics program and UF is the only school to collect all three titles in a single season.
- The overall SEC All-Sports title is the 19th for Florida, while the Gator program also earned its 16th women's and 13th men's titles. UF has won 19 of the past 22 overall titles.

You are a "prospective student-athlete" when you start ninth-grade classes. Before the ninth grade, you become a prospective student-athlete if a college gives you (or your relatives or friends) any financial aid or other benefits that the college does not provide to prospective students generally.

You become a "recruited prospective student-athlete" at a particular college if any coach or representative of the college's athletics interest (booster or representative) approaches you (or any member of your family) about enrolling and participating in athletics at that college. Activities by coaches or boosters that cause you to become a recruited prospective student-athlete are:

- providing you with an official visit;
- visiting you or any other member of your family anywhere other than the college campus;
- placing more than one telephone call to you or any other member of your family; or
- signing a National Letter of Intent or a University of Florida written offer of athletically related financial aid.

ACADEMICS AND AMATEURISM

It is extremely important for you to give maximum academic effort as you conclude your high school attendance while maintaining your amateur status before entering college. To practice or play during your freshman year, you must meet the provisions of NCAA Bylaw 14.3, which include: (a) graduating from high school, (b) achieving a minimum cumulative grade point average in 16 core courses, and achieving a corresponding minimum combined score on the SAT, or a minimum sum total score on the ACT as determined by the NCAA Eligibility Center. You must also meet the provisions of Bylaw 12.3, which include verification that you have retained your amateur status prior to entering college. The NCAA Eligibility Center must certify the initial-eligibility and amateur status of all incoming freshman student-athletes. Therefore, you must register with the Eligibility Center as soon as possible. For online web access contact: www.ncaaclearinghouse.net.
